Alternatives for Managing the Nation's Complex Contaminated Groundwater Sites National Research Council,Division on Earth and Life Studies,Water Science and Technology Board,Committee on Future Options for Management in the Nation's Subsurface Remediation Effort,2013-02-27 Across the United States thousands of hazardous waste sites are contaminated with chemicals that prevent the underlying groundwater from meeting drinking water standards These include Superfund sites and other facilities that handle and dispose of hazardous waste active and inactive dry cleaners and leaking underground storage tanks many are at federal facilities such as military installations While many sites have been closed over the past 30 years through cleanup programs run by the U S Department of Defense the U S EPA and other state and federal agencies the remaining caseload is much more difficult to address because the nature of the contamination and subsurface conditions make it difficult to achieve drinking water standards in the affected groundwater

Alternatives for Managing the Nation s Complex Contaminated Groundwater Sites estimates that at least 126 000 sites across the U S still have contaminated groundwater and their closure is expected to cost at least 110 billion to 127 billion About 10 percent of these sites are considered complex meaning restoration is unlikely to be achieved in the next 50 to 100 years due to technological limitations At sites where contaminant concentrations have plateaued at levels above cleanup goals despite active efforts the report recommends evaluating whether the sites should transition to long term management where risks would be monitored and harmful exposures prevented but at reduced costs

World Philology Sheldon Pollock, Benjamin A. Elman, Ku-ming Kevin Chang, 2015-01-05 Philology the discipline of making sense of texts is enjoying a renaissance within academia after decades of neglect World Philology charts the evolution of philology across the many cultures and historical time periods in which it has been practiced and demonstrates how this branch of knowledge like philosophy and mathematics is an essential component of human understanding Every civilization has developed ways of interpreting the texts that it produces and differences of philological practice are as instructive as the similarities We owe our idea of a textual edition for example to the third century BCE scholars of the Alexandrian Library Rabbinical philology created an innovation in hermeneutics by shifting focus from how the Bible commands to what it commands Philologists in Song China and Tokugawa Japan produced startling insights into the nature of linguistic signs In the early modern period new kinds of philology arose in Europe but also among Indian Chinese and Japanese commentators Persian editors and Ottoman educationalists who began to interpret texts in ways that had little historical precedent They made judgments about the integrity and consistency of texts decided how to create critical editions and determined what it actually means to read Covering a wide range of cultures Greek Roman Hebrew Arabic Sanskrit Chinese Indo Persian Japanese Ottoman and modern European World Philology lays the groundwork for a new scholarly discipline
