New Trends in Intercalation Compounds for Energy Storage Christian Julien, J.P. Pereira-Ramos, A. Momchilov, 2002-04-30 Recent advances in electrochemistry and materials science have opened the way to the evolution of entirely new types of energy storage systems rechargeable lithium ion batteries electrochroms hydrogen containers etc all of which have greatly improved electrical performance and other desirable characteristics This book encompasses all the disciplines linked in the progress from fundamentals to applications from description and modelling of different materials to technological use from general diagnostics to methods related to technological control and operation of intercalation compounds Designing devices with higher specific energy and power will require a more profound understanding of material properties and performance This book covers the status of materials and advanced activities based on the development of new substances for energy storage

Handbook of Automotive Power Electronics and Motor Drives Ali Emadi, 2017-12-19 Initially the only electric loads encountered in an automobile were for lighting and the starter motor Today demands on performance safety emissions comfort convenience entertainment and communications have seen the working in of seemingly innumerable advanced electronic devices Consequently vehicle electric systems require larger capacities and more complex configurations to deal with these demands Covering applications in conventional hybrid electric and electric vehicles the Handbook of Automotive Power Electronics and Motor Drives provides a comprehensive reference for automotive electrical systems This authoritative handbook features contributions from an outstanding international panel of experts from industry and academia highlighting existing and emerging technologies Divided into five parts the Handbook of Automotive Power Electronics and Motor Drives offers an overview of automotive power systems discusses semiconductor devices sensors and other components explains different power electronic converters examines electric machines and associated drives and details various advanced electrical loads as well as battery technology for automobile applications As we seek to answer the call for safer more efficient and lower emission vehicles from regulators and consumer insistence on better performance comfort and entertainment the technologies outlined in this book are vital for engineering advanced vehicles that will satisfy these criteria

Entrepreneurship and Socio-economic Transformation in Thailand and Southeast Asia Amara Pongsapich, 1994 Proceedings of the International Seminar on Entrepreneurship and Socio Economic Transformation in Thailand and South East Asia held in February 1993

Tournois, 2010-10-27 World economy globalization is driven by multiple interactive forces They give rise to a number of paradoxes that impact the functional and developmental characteristics of firms This book offers for the first time an in depth study of the logical contradictions that stream from economic integration on the supranational level

Quantitative Finance Maria C. Mariani, Ionut Florescu, 2019-11-06 Presents a multitude of topics relevant to the quantitative finance community by combining the best of the theory with the usefulness of applications. Written by accomplished teachers and researchers in the field, this book presents quantitative finance theory through applications to specific practical problems and comes with accompanying coding techniques in R and MATLAB and some generic pseudo algorithms to modern finance. It also offers over 300 examples and exercises that are appropriate for the beginning student as well as the practitioner in the field. The Quantitative Finance book is divided into four parts. Part One begins by providing readers with the theoretical backdrop needed from probability and stochastic processes. We also present some useful finance concepts used throughout the book. In part two of the book we present the classical Black-Scholes-Merton model in a uniquely accessible and understandable way. Implied volatility as well as local volatility surfaces are also discussed. Next, solutions to Partial Differential Equations (PDE), wavelets, and Fourier transforms are presented. Several methodologies for pricing options, namely tree methods, finite difference method, and Monte Carlo simulation methods, are also discussed. We conclude this part with a discussion on stochastic differential equations (SDEs). In the third part of this book, several new and advanced models from current literature, such as general Lévy processes, nonlinear PDEs for stochastic volatility models in a transaction fee market, PDEs in a jump diffusion with stochastic volatility models, and factor and copulas models, are discussed. In part four of the book, we conclude with a solid presentation of the typical topics in fixed income securities and derivatives. We discuss models for pricing bonds, marketable securities, credit default swaps (CDS), and securitizations. Classroom tested over a three-year period with the input of students and experienced practitioners, this book emphasizes the volatility of financial analyses and interpretations. It weaves theory with application throughout the book. Utilizes R and MATLAB software programs. Presents pseudo algorithms for readers who do not have access to any particular programming system. Supplemented with extensive author-maintained web site that includes helpful teaching hints, data sets, software programs, and additional content. Quantitative Finance is an ideal textbook for upper undergraduate and beginning graduate students in statistics, financial engineering, quantitative finance, and mathematical finance programs. It will also appeal to practitioners in the same fields.

Vegetation Structure and Function at Multiple Spatial, Temporal and Conceptual Scales Elgene Owen

Box, 2016-03-17. This commemorative volume of invited papers in vegetation science covers a full range of topics, objectives, methods, and applications, including conservation and management tasks. These require study at different temporal and spatial scales, often simultaneously. Methodology is important in science since it responds to particular questions and raises others. It is also closely related to the scale of investigation. Chapters in this book illustrate this interdependence, even in basic tasks such as vegetation sampling and description, measurements, and mapping. Individual chapters present globally applicable systems, regional syntheses, and local analyses and applications, plus conceptual methodologies, including currently debated hot topics. Vegetation types treated include tropical rainforests, temperate forests, dry steppes, and scrub, and local turf, sedge, and moss communities. There are also chapters on re-vegetation, woodland management, ecology of an invasive species and trajectory planning in conservation This book will be useful to both students and practitioners for its reviews and examples and as a potential textbook suitable for graduate level courses and seminars

Monetary Transitions Karin Pallaver, 2021-11-16 This book uses money as a lens through which to analyze the social and economic impact of colonialism on African societies and institutions It is the first book to address the monetary history of the colonial period in a comprehensive way covering several areas of the continent and different periods with the ultimate aim of understanding the long term impact of colonial monetary policies on African societies While grounding an understanding of money in terms of its circulation acceptance and impact this book shows first and foremost how the monetary systems that resulted from the imposition of colonial rule on African societies were not a replacement of the old currency systems with entirely new ones but were rather the result of the convergence of different orders of value and monetary practices By putting histories of people using money at the heart of the story and connecting them to larger imperial policies the volume provides a new and fresh perspective on the history of the establishment of colonial rule in Africa This book is the result of a collaborative and interdisciplinary research project that has received funding by the Gerda Henkel Foundation The contributors are both junior and senior scholars based at universities in Europe Africa Asia and the US who are all specialists on the history of money in Africa It will appeal to an international audience of scholars and educators interested in African Studies and History Economic History Imperial and Colonial History Development Studies Monetary Studies

Modelling the City C. S. Bertuglia,G. P. Clarke,A. G. Wilson,2012-08-21

Modelling the City examines the changing role of urban models in respect to both the need to readdress measures of urban well being and the perceived need to bring model outputs more in tune with key planning problems The authors argue that whilst there has been substantial progress with a wide range of theoretical problems in urban modelling modellers have not paid enough attention to the usefulness of their model outputs in terms of indicators which offer new insights into the workings of the city or region Modelling the City offers a new geography of performance indicators for the public and private sector based on the principles of spatial interaction

Frontiers of the European Union M. Anderson,E. Bort,2001-01-01

Based on original research this book is a unique attempt at a general assessment of EU frontiers Internal frontiers are losing some of their key functions but there are many responses to the new situation as a case study of French frontiers abundantly illustrates An examination of the EU external frontier shows that the EU is acquiring some state like features but the eastern frontier provides abundant evidence of the external frontier s complexity The authors conclude that the increasing openness of national frontiers will continue but their effective abolition whether by European integration or through globalization is improbable
