The Undersea Network Nicole Starosielski, 2015-03-02 In our wireless world it is easy to take the importance of the undersea cable systems for granted but the stakes of their successful operation are huge as they are responsible for carrying almost all transoceanic Internet traffic In The Undersea Network Nicole Starosielski follows these cables from the ocean depths to their landing zones on the sandy beaches of the South Pacific bringing them to the surface of media scholarship and making visible the materiality of the wired network In doing so she charts the cable network s cultural historical geographic and environmental dimensions Starosielski argues that the environments the cables occupy are historical and political realms where the network and the connections it enables are made possible by the deliberate negotiation and manipulation of technology culture politics and geography Accompanying the book is an interactive digital mapping project where readers can trace cable routes view photographs and archival materials and read stories about the island cable hubs

Visions of a Digital Nation Jacob Ward,2024-02-06 Why the privatization of British Telecom signaled a pivotal moment in the rise of neoliberalism and how it was shaped by the longer development and digitalization of Britain s telecommunications infrastructure When Margaret Thatcher sold British Telecom for 3 6 billion in 1984 it became not only at the time the largest stock flotation in history but also a watershed moment in the rise of neoliberalism and deregulation In Visions of a Digital Nation Jacob Ward offers an incisive interdisciplinary perspective on how technology prefigured this pivot Giving due consideration to the politicians engineers and managers who paved the way for this historic moment Ward illustrates how the decision validated the privatization of public utilities and tied digital technology to free market rationales In this examination of the national and at times global history of technology Ward s approach is sweeping Utilizing infrastructure studies environmental history and urban and local history Ward explores Britain s nationalist and welfarist plans for a digital information utility and shows how these projects contested and adapted to the market turn under Margaret Thatcher Ultimately Visions of a Digital Nation compellingly argues that politicians did not impose neoliberalism top down but that technology engineers and managers shaped these politics from the bottom up
