

Decomposition by Zulfikar Ghose

I have a picture I took in Bombay
Of a beggar asleep on the pavement :
Grey-haired, wearing shorts and a dirty shirt,
His shadow thrown aside like a blanket.

His arms and legs could be cracks in the stone,
Routes for the ants' journeys, the flies' descents.
Brainwashed by the sun into exhaustion,
He lies veined into stone, a fossil man.

Behind him there is a crowd passingly
Bemused by a pavement trickster and quite Indifferent to this very common sight
Of an old man asleep on the pavement.

I thought it then a good composition
And glibly called it 'The Man in the Street'
Remarking how typical it was of India that the man in the street lived there.

His head in the posture of one weeping into a pillow chides me now for my presumption at attempting to compose
Art out of his hunger and solitude.

Zulfikar Ghose Mansoor Abbasi,2015-06-18 In 1963 Zulfikar Ghose received a special award from the E C Gregory Trust that was judged by T S Eliot Henry Moore Herbert Read and Bonamy Dobr e A year earlier in an issue devoted to the newly emerging Commonwealth literature the Times Literary Supplement featured Zulfikar Ghose as the most prominent poet from the former British colonies by conspicuously printing three of his poems spread across half a page By the time he was featured in The Review of Contemporary Fiction Ghose had been accorded major status as a writer of international repute the editors of The Review of Contemporary Fiction noted that Zulfikar Ghose has both ranked with and outranked several of the best English language writers in England and America and went on to present him as a unique figure in contemporary literature whose evolution across languages and national boundaries was comparable to Conrad Nabokov and Beckett In spite of receiving such notable attention Ghose has remained a marginal presence and in fact an untouchable among writers accorded a world class status Of the several reasons suggested for Ghose s marginalization by scholars of world literature and post colonial studies the most significant one is that his oeuvre resists categorisation For Ghose to use Proust s phrases Quality of language and the beauty of an image are the heart of great writing Ghose s work is full of meditative reverberations and has a fastidious style that scintillates the reader s mind with its brilliance His genius lies in the construction of a language that is lyrical and full of vivid imagery He captures the images of his native Punjab as well as the South American landscape and imbues the air with the fragrance of Amazon rainforest while his prose sends a shiver between the shoulder blades In his experimentation with form he make s it new to use Pound s phrase His literary journey from the imitation of nineteenth century realism to his most experimental and ambitious works like Hulme s Investigations into the Bogart Script and The Triple Mirror of the Self reflects his wide range of experimentation with form and style This book investigates the structural patterns in the novels of Zulfikar Ghose that give each of his works its peculiar aesthetic design While on the one hand this work notes his role as a pioneer among South Asian writers of the post colonial era on the other hand his novels are examined in the critical framework erected by the writer himself with its emphasis on style that is the central concern of this study A Dictionary of Stylistics Katie Wales,2014-09-11 Reviews of the first edition a work of
