Migration and Citizenship Rainer Bauböck, 2006 Publisher Description

A Points-based System Great Britain: Home Office,2006-03-07 This document sets out the Governments proposals for a new points based approach to managing the flow of migrants coming to the UK to work or study Whilst it is generally agreed that migration makes a substantial contribution to economic growth fills gaps in the labour market and increases investment innovation and entrepreneurship and enriches cultural diversity it needs to be managed The Government proposes a five tier framework to help people understand how the system works and to direct applicants to the category that is most appropriate for them The tiers are 1 highly skilled individuals to contribute to growth and productivity 2 skilled workers with a job offer to fill gaps in the UK labour force 3 limited numbers of low skilled workers needed to fill specific temporary labour shortages 4 students 5 youth mobility and temporary workers people allowed to work in the UK for a limited period of time to satisfy primarily non economic objectives For each tier applicants will need sufficient points to obtain entry clearance or leave to remain in the UK Points will be awarded according to objective and transparent criteria giving a structured decision making process Applicants in tiers 2 to 5 will need a certificate of sponsorship The Government aims for a system that better identifies and attracts migrants who have most to offer the UK is more efficient transparent and objective and that improves compliance and reduces the scope for abuse

Management of Asylum Applications by the UK Border Agency Great Britain. National Audit Office,2009 The New Asylum Model introduced by the Home Office in 2006 to achieve faster conclusions to asylum applications has strengthened aspects of the asylum process The case ownership approach in which a single individual manages an application from start to finish has created a strong incentive to conclude cases and applications are being concluded more quickly and there are also signs that the quality of decision making is improving But the new process is not yet working to its optimum efficiency and effectiveness The UK Border Agency has done well to improve its handling of the casework There was a rise in the proportion of cases being dealt with within six months peaking above the target of 40 per cent in December 2007 The backlog of decisions to be made has however more than doubled in over a year to 8 700 in the second quarter of 2008 At the point of application the full screening interview is not taking place in a quarter of cases so that key information about claims could be being missed A separate process has been established to clear by 2011 the backlog of legacy cases unresolved before the introduction of the New Asylum Model which is put at some 335 000 cases The Agency has made inroads but the target looks challenging Few removals of failed applicants are being achieved hampered by a lack of detention space and problems obtaining emergency travel documents Throughout the second half of 2007 the gap between unfounded applications and removals increased The Agency missed its tipping point objective which is to remove more failed asylum applicants than the number who make new unfounded applications Unfounded applications exceeded removals by over 20 per cent

The work of the UK Border Agency (December 2011-March 2012) Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Home Affairs Committee,2012-07-23 For the first time the Committee has collated the backlog of outstanding cases in the various areas where the UK Border Agency deals with casework This report criticises the Agency for failing to conclude the total backlog of 276 460 cases The Committee makes a number of key recommendations a team should be established to examine why the 3 900 foreign national offenders living in the community as of 4 April have not been deported deportation proceedings for foreign national prisoners must begin at the time of sentencing a list of those countries refusing to accept the return of their own criminals who have committed offences in the UK must be published the Agency should expand its checks to include a wider range of databases in order to assist with tracing of those in the controlled archive students should be removed from net migration target face to face interviews for all foreign students must be compulsory the Agency must be represented at 100% not 84% of all tribunal hearings all inspection visits on Tier 4 must be unannounced the Agency must inform the informants as to possible illegal immigrants of the outcome of their tip off and provide a breakdown of the outcomes of its enforcement visits The Committee reiterates that Senior Agency staff should not receive bonuses until the Agency s performance improves and bonuses paid in the past contrary to the Committee s recommendations should be repaid

Code of Practice for Adult Conditional Cautions Great Britain: Ministry of Justice,2013-01-09 Dated January 2013

The Work of the UK Border Agency (April-June 2012) Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Home Affairs Committee, 2012-11-09 The Agency's backlog is growing at an alarming rate it has increased by over 25 000 cases since the first quarter of this year The backlog consists of the Migration Refusal Pool which contains records of individuals without leave to remain in the UK who cannot be traced and has grown by 24 000 records since the first quarter of this year it now totals 174 000 ex Foreign National Offenders with 3 954 ex FNOs living in the community whilst deportation action against them proceeds the so called controlled archive with cases the Agency has no control over it does not even know where the applicants are there were 95 000 cases in archive at the end of June this year and senior management promised to clear it by 31st December which would mean writing off 81 000 files Asylum and migration live cohorts where the UKBA has managed to trace an applicant thought to have been lost and is working to close their case with 29 000 cases in the live cohorts at the end of June this year The UKBA must adopt a transparent and robust approach to tackling the backlogs instead of creating new ways of camouflaging them Until the entire backlog is cleared the Committee does not believe that senior staff should receive any bonuses The Committee also doubts that the Agency is adequately equipped to deal with the increase in asylum applications Cases waiting for an initial decision after 6 months have risen by 36% since June 2011 The Committee is further concerned about the quality of decision making Poor decision making may result in people being returned home when they face persecution and torture
