Self Portrait in Green Marie NDiaye,2021-02-25 NDiaye is a hypnotic storyteller with an unflinching understanding of the rock bottom reality of most people's life New York Times One of France's most exciting prose stylists The Guardian Obsessed by her encounters with the mysterious green women and haunted by the Garonne River a nameless narrator seeks them out in La Roele Paris Marseille and Ouagadougou Each encounter reveals different aspects of the women real or imagined dead or alive seductive or suicidal driving the narrator deeper into her obsession in this unsettling exploration of identity memory and paranoia Self Portrait in Green is the multi prize winning Marie NDiaye s brilliant subversion of the memoir Written in diary entries with lyrical prose and dreamlike imagery we start with and return to the river which mirrors the narrative by posing more questions than it answers How We Read Now Naomi S. Baron,2021 The digital revolution has transformed reading Onscreen text audiobooks podcasts and videos often replace print We make these swaps for pleasure reading but also in schools How We Read Now is a ringside seat to the impact of reading medium on learning Teachers administrators librarians and policymakers need to make decisions about classroom materials College students must weigh their options And parents face choices for their children Digital selections are often based on cost or convenience not educational evidence Current research offers essential findings about how print and digital reading compare when the aim is learning Yet the gap between what scholars and the larger public know is huge How We Read Now closes the gap The book begins by sizing up the state of reading today revealing how little reading students have been doing The heart of the book connects research insights to practical applications Baron draws on work from international researchers along with results from her collaborative studies of student reading practices ranging from middle school through college The result is an impartial view of the evidence including where the jury is still out The book closes with two challenges The first is that students increasingly complain print is boring And second for all the educational buzz about teaching critical thinking digital reading is inherently ill suited for cultivating these habits of mind Since screens and audio are now entrenched and valuable platforms for reading we need to rethink how to help learners use them wisely
