Blair H. Sheppard,2020-08-04 Shows how humans have brought us to the brink and how humanity can find solutions I urge people to read with humility and the daring to act Harpal Singh former Chair Save the Children India and former Vice Chair Save the Children International In conversations with people all over the world from government officials and business leaders to taxi drivers and schoolteachers Blair Sheppard global leader for strategy and leadership at PwC discovered they all had surprisingly similar concerns In this prescient and pragmatic book he and his team sum up these concerns in what they call the ADAPT framework Asymmetry of wealth Disruption wrought by the unexpected and often problematic consequences of technology Age disparities stresses caused by very young or very old populations in developed and emerging countries Polarization as a symptom of the breakdown in global and national consensus and loss of Trust in the institutions that underpin and stabilize society These concerns are in turn precipitating four crises a crisis of prosperity a crisis of technology a crisis of institutional legitimacy and a crisis of leadership Sheppard and his team analyze the complex roots of these crises but they also offer solutions albeit often seemingly counterintuitive ones For example in an era of globalization we need to place a much greater emphasis on developing self sustaining local economies And as technology permeates our lives we need computer scientists and engineers conversant with sociology and psychology and poets who can code The authors argue persuasively that we have only a decade to make headway on these problems But if we tackle them now thoughtfully imaginatively creatively and energetically in ten years we could be looking at a dawn instead of darkness
