Fashionable Nonsense Alan Sokal,Jean Bricmont,2014-01-14 In 1996 physicist Alan Sokal published an essay in Social Text an influential academic journal of cultural studies touting the deep similarities between quantum gravitational theory and postmodern philosophy Soon thereafter the essay was revealed as a brilliant parody a catalog of nonsense written in the cutting edge but impenetrable lingo of postmodern theorists The event sparked a furious debate in academic circles and made the headlines of newspapers in the U S and abroad In Fashionable Nonsense Postmodern Intellectuals Abuse of Science Sokal and his fellow physicist Jean Bricmont expand from where the hoax left off In a delightfully witty and clear voice the two thoughtfully and thoroughly dismantle the pseudo scientific writings of some of the most fashionable French and American intellectuals More generally they challenge the widespread notion that scientific theories are mere narrations or social constructions

Holy Terror Terry Eagleton,2005-09-08 Holy Terror is a profound and timely investigation of the idea of terror drawing upon political philosophical literary and theological sources to trace a genealogy from the ancient world to the modern day Rather than add to the mounting pile of political studies of terrorism Terry Eagleton offers here a metaphysics of terror with a serious historical perspective Writing with remarkable clarity and persuasive insight he examines a concept whose cultural impact predates 9 11 by millennia From its earliest manifestations in rite and ritual through the French Revolution to the War on Terror of today terror has been regarded with both horror and fascination Eagleton examines the duality of the sacred both life giving and death dealing and relates it via current and past ideas of freedom to the idea of terror itself Stretching from the cult of Dionysus to the thought of Jacques Lacan the book takes in en route ideas of God freedom the sublime and the unconscious It also examines the problem of evil and devotes a concluding chapter to the idea of tragic sacrifice and the scapegoat Written by one of the world s foremost cultural critics Holy Terror is a provocative and ambitious examination of one of the most urgent issues of our time

On Evil Terry Eagleton,2010-04-06 DIV In this witty accessible study the prominent Marxist thinker Terry Eagleton launches a surprising defense of the reality of evil drawing on literary theological and psychoanalytic sources to suggest that evil no mere medieval artifact is a real phenomenon with palpable force in our contemporary world In a book that ranges from St Augustine to alcoholism Thomas Aquinas to Thomas Mann Shakespeare to the Holocaust Eagleton investigates the frightful plight of those doomed souls who apparently destroy for no reason In the process he poses a set of intriguing questions Is evil really a kind of nothingness Why should it appear so glamorous and seductive Why does goodness seem so boring Is it really possible for human beings to delight in destruction for no reason at all div

The Real Thing Terry Eagleton, 2024-01-01 A clear sighted and entertaining defence of literary realism and an account of its key practitioners Realist fiction is one of the most enduring artforms history has ever witnessed By describing the intricate inner life of its characters or widening its focus to set their experience in context it can evoke the reader s sympathies as few other forms can Yet it is also by and large a product of the middle classes boldly individualist and fascinated by money property marriage and inheritance Can such realism survive in the postmodern age Acclaimed critic Terry Eagleton explores realism s complex history practice and politics Spanning several centuries and including writers such as George Eliot D H Lawrence and Iris Murdoch Eagleton offers a witty entertaining defence of a form which offers both panoramic scope and individual nuance in an increasingly fragmented world

The Illusion of the End Jean Baudrillard, 1994 The year 2000 the end of the millennium is this anything other than a mirage the illusion of an end like so many other imaginary endpoints which have littered the path of history In this remarkable book Jean Baudrillard France s leading theorist of postmodernity argues that the notion of the end is part of the fantasy of a linear history Today we are not approaching the end of history but moving into reverse into a process of systematic obliteration We are wiping out the entire twentieth century effacing all signs of the cold War one by one perhaps even the signs of the First and Second World Wars and of the political and ideological revolutions of our time In short we are engaged in a gigantic process of historical revisionism and we seem in a hurry to finish it before the end of the century secretly hoping perhaps to be able to begin again from scratch Baudrillard explores the fatal strategies of time which shape our ways of thinking about history and its imaginary end Ranging from the revolutions in Eastern Europe to the Gulf War from the transformation of nature to the hyper reality of the media this postmodern mediation on modernity and its aftermath will be widely read

After Theory Terry Eagleton,2004-08-26 The golden age of cultural theory the product of a decade and a half from 1965 to 1980 is long past We are living now in its aftermath in an age which having grown rich in the insights of thinkers like Althusser Barthes and Derrida has also moved beyond them What kind of new fresh thinking does this new era demand Eagleton concludes that cultural theory must start thinking ambitiously again not so that it can hand the West its legitimation but so that it can seek to make sense of the grand narratives in which it is now embroiled

The Postmodern Representation of Reality in Peter Ackroyd's Chatterton Arya Aryan,2022-06-08 This book explores the postmodernist representation of reality and argues that historiographic metafictional texts such as Peter Ackroyd s Chatterton 1987 are hetero referential in their creation of a heterocosm as opposed to representational and anti representational views of art It argues that postmodernist historiographic metafiction is not simply self referential but hetero referential consciously revealing the paradoxes of self referentiality while simultaneously creating a heterocosmic world where the text is capable of referring to an external reality The book highlights Chatterton s narrative strategies and techniques which result in revealing the text s meaning granting process The novel acknowledges the existence of reality and the text s possibility of representation but contends that reality is a human construct In addition the book demonstrates that representation is possible through fictive referents and thus hetero referential
