Getting Things Done at Work Bernadette Vine,2004-06-24 The linguistic study of workplace language is a new and exciting area of research This book explores the expression of power in a New Zealand workplace through examination of 52 everyday interactions between four women and their colleagues The main focus of this research is the expression of three types of control acts i e directives requests and advice The women include two managers who demonstrate an interactive participative style of management They tend to minimise rather than exert power although their status is still evident in their speech The study is original in its combination of a quantitative and a qualitative approach as well as in its combination of a detailed categorisation of head acts and an analysis of context and role relationships Through the design of the study and the methodology used the results which are brought forward challenge earlier research both on power and control acts The data analyzed is drawn from the Wellington Language in the Workplace Project

Crime, Shame and Reintegration John Braithwaite,1989-03-23 Crime Shame and Reintegration is a contribution to general criminological theory Its approach is as relevant to professional burglary as to episodic delinquency or white collar crime Braithwaite argues that some societies have higher crime rates than others because of their different processes of shaming wrongdoing Shaming can be counterproductive making crime problems worse But when shaming is done within a cultural context of respect for the offender it can be an extraordinarily powerful efficient and just form of social control Braithwaite identifies the social conditions for such successful shaming If his theory is right radically different criminal justice policies are needed a shift away from punitive social control toward greater emphasis on moralizing social control

This book will be of interest not only to criminologists and sociologists but to those in law public administration and politics who are concerned with social policy and social issues The Lazy Genius Way Kendra Adachi,2020 Be productive without sacrificing peace of mind using Lazy Genius principles that help you focus on what really matters and let go of what doesn't If you need a comprehensive strategy for a meaningful life but are tired of reading stacks of self help books here is an easy way that actually works No more cobbling together life hacks and productivity strategies from dozens of authors and still feeling tired The struggle is real but it doesn't have to be in charge With wisdom and wit the host of The Lazy Genius Podcast Kendra Adachi shows you that it's not about doing more or doing less it's about doing what matters to you In this book she offers fourteen principles that are both practical and purposeful like a Swiss army knife for how to be a person Use them in combination to lazy genius anything from laundry and meal plans to making friends and napping without guilt It's possible to be soulful and efficient at the same time and this book is the blueprint The Lazy Genius Way isn't a new list of things to do it's a new way to see Skip the rules about getting up at 5 a.m. and drinking more water Let's just figure out how to be a good person who can get stuff done without turning into The Hulk These Lazy Genius principles such as Decide Once Start Small Ask the Magic Question and more offer a better way to approach your time relationships and piles of mail no matter your personality or life stage Be who you already are just with a better set of tools The Working Life Joanne B.

Ciulla,2011-03-16 A wide ranging look at the allure and changing significance of work With seductions misunderstandings and misinformation everywhere this immensely readable book calls for a new contract with ourselves Drawing from history mythology literature pop culture and practical experience Ciulla probes the many meanings of work or its meaninglessness and asks Why are so many of us letting work take over our lives and trying to live in what little time is left What has happened to the old unspoken contract between worker and employer Why are young people not being disloyal when they regularly consider job changing Employers can't promise as much to workers as before Is that because they promise so much to stockholders Why are there mass layoffs and downsizing in a time of unequaled corporate prosperity And why are the most common lies in business about satisfactory employee performance The traditional contract between employers and employees is over This thoughtful and provocative study shows how to replace it by the one we make with ourselves

Resources in Education ,1976 The Curse of King Tut's Mummy (Totally True Adventures) Kathleen Weidner Zoehfeld,Jim Nelson,2009-07-22 When the pharaohs of Egypt died they were mummified and buried in pyramids and tombs with all their riches But as centuries passed the tombs were looted and the pharaohs gold stolen Then Howard Carter found the greatest Egyptian treasure trove of all the tomb of King Tut's mummy But did the amazing treasure come with a deadly curse Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70

ECEL2004-3rd European Conference on E-Learning D. Remenyi,2004-01-01 The American Community College Arthur M. Cohen,Florence B. Brawer,1982 This book is about American community colleges during the period from 1965

1980 and presents a comprehensive study useful for everyone concerned with higher education. It includes data summaries on students, faculty, curriculum, and many other quantifiable dimensions of the institutions. The data descriptions and analyses can be used by administrators to learn about practices that have proved effective, curriculum planners who anticipated program revision, faculty members seeking ideas to modify their classes, and trustees and policy makers for interesting financial and administrative guidelines.

Burnout Emily Nagoski, PhD, Amelia Nagoski, DMA, 2019-03-26. NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER. This book is a gift I've been practicing their strategies and it's a total game changer. Bren Brown PhD author of Dare to Lead: A primer on how to stop letting the world dictate how you live and what we think of ourselves. Burnout is essential reading and excels in its intersectionality. Bustle: This groundbreaking book explains why women experience burnout differently than men and provides a roadmap to minimizing stress, managing emotions, and living more joyfully. Burnout: You like most American women have probably experienced it. What's expected of women and what it's really like to exist as a woman in today's world are two different things, and we exhaust ourselves trying to close the gap. Sisters: Emily Nagoski PhD and Amelia Nagoski DMA are here to help end the all-too-familiar cycle of feeling overwhelmed and exhausted. They compassionately explain the obstacles and societal pressures we face and how we can fight back. You'll learn what you can do to complete the biological stress cycle, how to manage the monitor in your brain that regulates the emotion of frustration, how the Bikini Industrial Complex makes it difficult for women to love their bodies, and how to defend yourself against it. Why rest, human connection, and befriending your inner critic are keys to recovering from and preventing burnout. With the help of eye-opening science, prescriptive advice, and helpful worksheets and exercises, all women will find something transformative in Burnout and will be empowered to create positive change. A BOOKRIOT BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR.

Assistive Technologies and Environmental Interventions in Healthcare Lynn Gitlow, Kathleen Flecky, 2019-08-08. Providing a holistic and client-centered approach, Assistive Technologies and Environmental Interventions in Healthcare explores the individual's needs within the environment, examines the relationship between disability and a variety of traditional and cutting-edge technologies, and presents a humanistic discussion of Technology Environment Intervention (TEI). Written by a multidisciplinary team of authors, this text introduces readers to a variety of conceptual practice models and the clinical reasoning perspectives. It also provides insight into how designers go about solving human-tech problems, discusses best practices for both face-to-face and virtual teams, and looks at the psychological, sociocultural, and cognitive factors behind the development and provision of assistive technologies. Examines a wide range of technologies and environmental interventions. Demonstrates how a better understanding of the complexity of human interaction with both the physical and social environment can lead to better use of technology. Explores the future of technology and research in TEI. Complete with a range of learning features such as keywords case studies and review questions this book is ideal for undergraduate and graduate students in occupational therapy and other related health professions as well as those undertaking certification and board examinations
