

A photograph of a lecture hall or classroom. The room is filled with rows of wooden chairs, all facing towards the front. At the front of the room, there is a large blackboard. To the left of the blackboard, there is a wooden podium. The walls are light-colored, and there are some small decorative elements or lights on the wall above the blackboard. The overall atmosphere is quiet and empty.

United States to micro lending and low income housing finance industries in Mexico Providing a much needed theorization of the politics of debt Debtfare States and the Poverty Industry has wider implications of the increasing dependence of the poor on consumer credit across the globe this book will be of very strong interest to students and scholars of Global Political Economy Finance Development Studies Geography Law History and Sociology The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781315761954> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2IU6PHjyOzU>

The Rice Crisis David Dawe,2012-07-26 The recent escalation of world food prices particularly for cereals prompted mass public indignation and demonstrations in many countries from the price of tortilla flour in Mexico to that of rice in the Philippines and pasta in Italy The crisis has important implications for future government trade and food security policies as countries re evaluate their reliance on potentially more volatile world markets to augment domestic supplies of staple foods This book examines how government policies caused and responded to soaring world prices in the particular case of rice which is the world s most important source of calories for the poor Comparable case studies of policy reactions in different countries principally across Asia but also including the USA provide the understanding necessary to evaluate the impact of trade policy on the food security of poor farmers and consumers They also provide important insights into the concerns of developing countries that are relevant for future international trade negotiations in key agricultural commodities As a result more appropriate policies can be put in place to ensure more stable food supplies in the future Published with the Food and Agriculture FAO Organization of the United Nations

How Should Democracies Fight Terrorism? Patti Tamara Lenard,2020-07-20 In the wake of major terrorist attacks calls for ever more draconian policies to prevent further outrages are common Such responses raise the pressing question is it possible to effectively fight terrorism while respecting democratic values of equality and trust Examining recent examples of terrorist atrocities from the murder of Muslims in New Zealand and Jews in Pittsburgh to the Charlie Hebdo attacks Patti Tamara Lenard considers how democracies should tackle terrorism within the constraints imposed by democratic principles For many the tension between liberty and security necessarily means that the only way to protect security is to sacrifice liberty but Lenard rejects this claim and instead argues that security's goal should be to keep all citizens equally secure in the face of terrorist threats Critiquing existing policies from exile to racial profiling she outlines what ethical counter terrorism policies should look like arguing for strategies that respect equality and thereby maintain trust among diverse communities in democratic states This erudite guide to how states might ethically fight terrorism will be essential reading for any student or scholar of public affairs security counter terrorism and democratic governance CIPS Magazine Canadian Information Processing Society,1971 C I P S Review Canadian Information Processing Society,1987
