The Gay Essay Anthony Friedkin, Nayland Blake, Eileen Myles, 2014 An unprecedented look at a moving photographic series that chronicles the gay communities of Los Angeles and San Francisco from 1969 to 1972 For more than forty years American photographer Anthony Friedkin b 1949 creating full frame black and white images has documented people cities and landscapes primarily in his home state of California During the culturally tumultuous years of 1969 and 1970 Friedkin made a series of photographs that together offer an eloquent and expressive visual chronicle of the gay communities of Los Angeles and San Francisco at the time This is the first book to explore the series titled The Gay Essay in depth within the broader historical context that gave rise to it 1969 witnessed the Stonewall riots in New York City and was a turning point in the history of community building and organized political activism among homosexuals in the United States The Gay Essay provides a singular intimate record of this crucial moment Friedkin's portraits taken in streets hotels bars and dancehalls demonstrate a sensitivity and an understanding that has imbued the photographs with an enduring resonance This handsome book features seventy five full page plates and is accompanied by engaging essays and a poem by Eileen Myles Published in association with the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco Exhibition Schedule de Young San Francisco 06 14 14 01 04 15 International Center of Photography New York dates TBA Last Words from Montmartre Qiu Miaojin, 2014-06-03 An NYRB Classics Original When the pioneering Taiwanese novelist Qiu Miaojin committed suicide in 1995 at age twenty six she left behind her unpublished masterpiece Last Words from Montmartre Unfolding through a series of letters written by an unnamed narrator Last Words tells the story of a passionate relationship between two young women their sexual awakening their gradual breakup and the devastating aftermath of their broken love In a style that veers between extremes from self deprecation to pathos compulsive repetition to rhapsodic musings reticence to vulnerability Qiu's genre bending novel is at once a psychological thriller a sublime romance and the author's own suicide note The letters which Qiu tells us can be read in any order leap between Paris Taipei and Tokyo They display wrenching insights into what it means to live between cultures languages and genders until the genderless character Zo appears and the narrator's spiritual and physical identity is transformed As powerfully raw and transcendent as Mishima's Confessions of a Mask Goethe's The Sorrows of Young Werther and Theresa Cha's Dict e to name but a few Last Words from Montmartre proves Qiu Miaojin to be one of the finest experimentalists and modernist Chinese language writers of our generation Afterglow Eileen Myles, 2018-02-01 Skinny's Book of the Year 2018 In 1990 Myles chose Rosie from a litter on the street and their connection instantly made an indelible impact on the writer's way of being Over the course of sixteen years together Myles was devoted to the pit bull and their linked quality of life And starting from the emptiness following Rosie s death Afterglow launches a playful and incisive investigation into the mostly mutually beneficial sometimes reprehensible power dynamics between pet and pet owner At the same time it reimagines Myles s experiences with alcoholism and recovery intimacy and mourning celebrity and politics spirituality and family history while joyously transcending the parameters of memoir Moving from an imaginary talk show where Rosie is interviewed by Myles s childhood puppet to a critical reenactment of the night Rosie mated with another pit bull from shimmering poetic transcriptions of video footage taken during their walks to Rosie s final enlightened narration from the afterlife this totally singular text combines elements of science fiction screenplay monologue and lucid memory to get to the heart of how and why we dedicate our existence to our dogs

Are You My Mother? Alison Bechdel, 2012-05-01
The New York Times bestselling graphic memoir about Alison Bechdel author of Fun Home becoming the artist her mother wanted to be Alison Bechdel s Fun Home was a pop culture and literary phenomenon Now a second thrilling tale of filial sleuthery this time about her mother voracious reader music lover passionate amateur actor Also a woman unhappily married to a closeted gay man whose artistic aspirations simmered under the surface of Bechdel s childhood and who stopped touching or kissing her daughter good night forever when she was seven Poignantly hilariously Bechdel embarks on a quest for answers concerning the mother daughter gulf It s a richly layered search that leads readers from the fascinating life and work of the iconic twentieth century psychoanalyst Donald Winnicott to one explosively illuminating Dr Seuss illustration to Bechdel s own serially monogamous adult love life And finally back to Mother to a truce fragile and real time that will move and astonish all adult children of gifted mothers A New York Times USA Today Time Slate and Barnes sort of like a comic book by Virginia Woolf You won t believe it until you read it and you must Gloria Steinem

Meat Heart Melissa Broder, 2012 Poetry Don t believe Melissa Broder when she writes I m afraid to say anything with heart This book is not afraid as she proves right away and on every page and that s why we needed her to make it A little dark a little damaged a little deranged but definitely not afraid and never short on the titular organ which also acts as mouth and mind The whole book pumps and I swear some of what s coming in and out are flashes of light that you can read it by Mark Bibbins The speaker in MEAT HEART is either an old world witch or a contemporary warlock That is to say this speaker being gallops through time making thrilling observations There is a focus on meat blood and food The poems tear through the reader with a reassuring giggle yet remain ominous Broder writes I find a thighbone in his mattress and think of friends gone missing She also writes G d loves my hair so we are reminded not to be overly frightened To read MEAT HEART is to consume perish murder glitter and prophesize To say that Broder is fearless is not saying enough Natalie Lyalin With her hallmark wit and brilliance Melissa Broder has followed up her heralded WHEN YOU SAY ONE THING BUT MEAN YOUR MOTHER with MEAT HEART a book of poems that is at once apocalyptic full of sorrow and packed with images crystalline in their beauty and truth In these poems Broder takes us through a world that is both alien and familiar to the world that we already know a wild landscape where there is ash fish and elemental octopi where cornhusk filaments Still jacket tongues and where in a place with 200 flavors of panic the worst is seeing with no eyes All of these freakish things to help us confront the bald fact that we are all just a series of meat hearts ourselves It is here that Broder shows her generosity as a poet because she makes us a new world in these poems where we go beyond meat a world where Broder tells us Somewhere I stopped looking for magic I guess she found all she needed this book is full of magic Dorothea Lasky In Time's Rift (Im Zeitspalt) Ernst Meister,2012-09-04 In a rift of time the corner of the universe appears to consciousness Ernst Meister Shock Treatment Karen Finley,2015 Expanded anniversary edition of this 1990 classic by America s most provocative performance artist as outrageous insightful and relevant as ever Well Then There Now Juliana Spahr,2011 Accretion articulation exploration transformation naming sentiment private and public property these are just a few of Juliana Spahr s interests From her first poem written in Honolulu Hawaii to the last written in Berkeley California about her childhood in Appalachia Spahr takes us on a wild patchwork journey backwards and forwards in time and space tracking change in ecology society economies herself Through a collage of found language a deep curiosity about place and a restless intelligence Spahr demonstrates the vibrant possibilities of investigatory poetics P 4 of cover After Hours Jason Roush,2005 A sparse and finely wrought first collection of poetry explores the poet s coming of age National American Kennel Club Stud Book ,1890
