Orlemann, This awe inspiring collection covers the largest top of the line mining equipment in each of the manufacturer s five major classes haulers wheel loaders hydraulic shovels graders and bulldozers Design development and production histories are accompanied by the stories of these gargantuan machines in service as well as details of the Herculean efforts required for their assembly Incredible modern color photography from both the author and the Caterpillar archives provide shots of the equipment in action and production not to mention detail shots to help explain their working componentry      Yellow Steel William R. Haycraft,2002 In Yellow Steel the first overarching history of the earthmoving equipment industry William Haycraft examines the tremendous increase in the scope of mining and construction projects from the Suez Canal through the interstate highway system made possible by innovations in earthmoving machinery Led by Cyrus McCormick s invention in 1831 of a practical mechanical reaper many of the builders of today s massive earthmoving machines began as makers of reapers plows threshers and combines Haycraft traces the efforts of manufacturers such as Caterpillar Allis Chalmers International Harvester J I Case Deere and Massey Ferguson to diversify from farm equipment to specialized earthmoving equipment and the important contributions of LeTourneau Euclid and others in meeting the needs of the construction and mining industries He shows how postwar economic and political events especially the creation of the interstate highway system spurred the development of more powerful and more agile machines He also relates the precipitous fall of several major American earthmoving machine companies and the rise of Japanese competitors in the early 1980s Extensively illustrated and packed with detailed information on both manufacturers and machines Yellow Steel knits together the diverse stories of the many companies that created the earthmoving equipment industry how they began expanded retooled merged succeeded and sometimes failed Their history a step by step linking of need and invention provides the foundation for virtually all modern transportation construction commerce and industry
