Warnke,1972-01-01 The History of Emotions Jan Plamper,2015 The history of emotions is one of the fastest growing fields in current historical debate and this is the first book length

introduction to the field synthesizing the current research and offering direction for future study The History of Emotions is organized around the debate between social constructivist and universalist theories of emotion that has shaped most emotions research in a variety of disciplines for more than a hundred years social constructivists believe that emotions are largely learned and subject to historical change while universalists insist on the timelessness and pan culturalism of emotions In historicizing and problematizing this binary Jan Plamper opens emotions research beyond constructivism and universalism he also maps a vast terrain of thought about feelings in anthropology philosophy sociology linguistics art history political science the life sciences from nineteenth century experimental psychology to the latest affective neuroscience and history from ancient times to the present day

Feeling Mediated Brenton J. Malin, 2014-03-28 New technologies whether text message or telegraph inevitably raise questions about emotion New forms of communication bring with them both fear and hope on one hand allowing us deeper emotional connections and the ability to forge global communities while on the other prompting anxieties about isolation and over stimulation Feeling Mediated investigates the larger context of such concerns considering both how media technologies intersect with our emotional lives and how our ideas about these intersections influence how we think about and experience emotion and technology themselves Drawing on extensive archival research Brenton J Malin explores the historical roots of much of our recent understanding of mediated feelings showing how earlier ideas about the telegraph phonograph radio motion pictures and other once new technologies continue to inform our contemporary thinking With insightful analysis Feeling Mediated explores a series of fascinating arguments about technology and emotion that became especially heated during the early 20th century These debates which carried forward and transformed earlier discussions of technology and emotion culminated in a set of ideas that became institutionalized in the structures of American media production advertising social research and policy leaving a lasting impact on our everyday lives
