Hernández,2012-09-04 The book that inspired the new film A Million Miles Away Born into a family of migrant workers toiling in the fields by the age of six Jose M Hern ndez dreamed of traveling through the night skies on a rocket ship Reaching for the Stars is the inspiring story of how he realized that dream becoming the first Mexican American astronaut Hern ndez didn t speak English till he was 12 and his peers often joined gangs or skipped school And yet by his twenties he was part of an elite team helping develop technology for the early detection of breast cancer He was turned down by NASA eleven times on his long journey to donning that famous orange space suit Hern ndez message of hard work education perseverance of reaching for the stars makes this a classic American autobiography

Madam President, Revised Edition Eleanor Clift,Tom Brazaitis,2016-05-06 The first Madam President will be sworn in sooner than most people think But the gender gap in politics is still shockingly broad say two of America s most readable political commentators in this timely look at the nation s sputtering efforts to envision a woman in America s top job The Boston Globe Charting the transformation of women s power in American politics from the first female presidential candidate Victoria Woodhull in 1872 to the shattered presidential hopes of Shirley Chisholm and Elizabeth Dole Madam President presents tales of passion determination set backs and triumph from nearly all national women politicians and most leading state politicians in the pipeline With insight garnered from years on the Washington political scene and candid interviews with leading politicians like Christine Todd Whitman and Kathleen Kennedy Townsend Clift and Brazaitis explain why the barriers to women are still formidable There are only 3 female governors one of the best routes to the White House and at the current rate it will take 250 years before there are as many women Senators and Representatives as men A forward looking savvy analysis of women in politics Madam President gives the first inside look at how America s female politicians got there stayed there and what it will take for them to make it to the presidency

Genetic Glass Ceilings Jonathan Gressel,2020-03-03 As the world s population rises to an expected ten billion in the next few generations the challenges of feeding humanity and maintaining an ecological balance will dramatically increase Today we rely on just four crops for 80 percent of all consumed calories wheat rice corn and soybeans Indeed reliance on these four crops may also mean we are one global plant disease outbreak away from major famine In this revolutionary and controversial book Jonathan Gressel argues that alternative plant crops lack the genetic diversity necessary for wider domestication and that even the Big Four have reached a genetic glass ceiling no matter how much they are bred there is simply not enough genetic diversity available to significantly improve their agricultural value Gressel points the way through the glass ceiling by advocating transgenics a technique where genes from one species are transferred to another He maintains that with simple safeguards the technique is a safe solution to the genetic glass ceiling conundrum Analyzing alternative crops including palm oil papaya buckwheat tef and sorghum Gressel demonstrates how gene manipulation could enhance their potential for widespread domestication and reduce our dependency on the Big Four He also describes a number of ecological benefits that could be derived with the aid of transgenics A compelling synthesis of ideas from agronomy medicine breeding physiology population genetics molecular biology and biotechnology Genetic Glass Ceilings presents transgenics as an inevitable and desperately necessary approach to securing and diversifying the world s food supply

Women Can't Paint Helen Gørrill,2020-02-06 In 2013 Georg Baselitz declared that women don't paint very well Whilst shocking his comments reveal what Helen Gørrill argues is prolific discrimination in the artworld In a groundbreaking study of gender and value Gørrill proves that there are few aesthetic differences in men and women's painting but that men's art is valued at up to 80 per cent more than women's Indeed the power of masculinity is such that when men sign their work it goes up in value yet when women sign their work it goes down Museums the author attests are also complicit in this vicious cycle as they collect tokenist female artwork which impinges upon its artists market value An essential text for students and teachers Gørrill's book is provocative and challenges existing methodologies whilst introducing shocking evidence She proves how the price of being a woman impacts upon all forms of artistic currency be it social cultural or economic and in the vanguard of the Me Too movement calls for the artworld to take action

Panes of the Glass Ceiling Kerri Lynn Stone,2022-02-24 More than fifty years of civil rights legislation and movements have not ended employment discrimination This book reframes the discourse about the glass ceiling that women face with respect to workplace inequality It explores the unspoken societally held beliefs that underlie and engender workplace behaviour and failures of the law policy and human nature that contribute panes and pains to the glass ceiling Each chapter identifies an unspoken belief and connects it with failures of law policy and human nature It then describes the resulting harm and shows how this belief is not imagined or operating in a vacuum but is pervasive throughout popular culture and society By giving voice to previously unvoiced even taboo beliefs we can better address and confront them and the problems they cause Women Are Creating the Glass Ceiling and Have the Power to End It Nancy E.

Murray,2010-07-01 This examination of the role of gender stereotyping in media coverage of executive elections uses nine case studies from around the world to provide a unique comparative perspective In recent years more and more high profile women candidates have been running for executive office in democracies all around the world Cracking the Highest Glass Ceiling A Global Comparison of Women s Campaigns for Executive Office is the first study to undertake an international comparison of women s campaigns for highest office and to identify the commonalities among them For example women candidates often begin as front runners as the idea of a woman president captures the public imagination followed by a decline in popularity as stereotypes and gendered media coverage kick in to erode the woman s perceived credibility as a national leader On the basis of nine international case studies of recent campaigns written by thirteen country specialists the volume develops an overarching framework which explores how gender stereotypes shape the course and outcome of women s campaigns in the male dominated worlds of executive elections in North America South America Europe Africa and Australasia This comparative approach allows the authors to discriminate between the contingent effects of a particular candidate or national culture and the universal operation of gender stereotyping Case studies include the campaigns for executive office of Hillary Rodham Clinton United States 2008 Sarah Palin United States 2008 Angela Merkel Germany 2005 and 2009 S gol ne Royal France 2007 Helen Clark New Zealand 1996 2008 Cristina Fern ndez de Kirchner Argentina 2007 Michelle Bachelet Chile 2006 Ellen Johnson Sirleaf Liberia 2005 and Irene S ez Venezuela 1998 Glass Walls Jean

Rostollan,Rhonda Levene,2006-04 The progress of talented women in corporate America remains a disappointment While a few have beaten the odds and broken through the glass ceiling some despite their achievement of executive rank have become so disillusioned that they are exiting traditional corporate organizations altogether Why are high functioning successful women feeling professionally unfulfilled The Glass Wall Theory describes the impact of isolation and unexpected marginalization women encounter when organizations are anchored by a closed group of male elitists Glass Walls shares inspirational stories from women who have endured the Glass Wall phenomenon descriptions of workplace factions and survival tactics to help you navigate your career toward the success you dream about and deserve Powerful and Free Danny Silk,2015-04-21 What comes to mind when you hear the phrase Women in Ministry A Nursery Worker B Children s leader C Pastor D It s complicated If you are like most your answer would be It s complicated Many believers are still confused about the proper place for women in the church Powerful and Free is a call to address the structural message of inequality It is not a theological treatise on the biblical case for female leaders there are many excellent resources for this already It is not a political program to implement some kind of affirmative action in our leadership teams because that doesn t work Rather it is an appeal to the hearts of men and women to recognize the existence of the glass ceiling for women and to challenge themselves to align more fully with a Kingdom vision for gender blind leadership in the Body and equal male female partnership in the home The Highest Glass Ceiling Ellen Fitzpatrick,2016-02-29 Best selling historian Ellen Fitzpatrick tells the story of three remarkable women who set their sights on the Presidency The arduous dramatic quests of Victoria Woodhull 1872 Margaret Chase Smith 1964 and Shirley Chisholm 1972 illuminate today s political landscape shedding light on Hillary Clinton s 2016 campaign for the Oval Office
