Climate Change Governance in Chinese Cities Qianqing Mai, Maria Francesch-Huidobro, 2014-11-27 In the last thirty years China has experienced rapid economic development and urbanisation which has resulted in high levels of environmental degradation and has put considerable pressure on the country's infrastructure and natural resources As China commits to considerably lower the carbon intensity of its economy this volume analyses and explains the governance of climate change mitigation responses in major Chinese cities The book focuses specifically on two highly carbon intensive sectors buildings and transport in Guangzhou Shenzhen and Hong Kong to explore how collaborative municipal networks function in practice in Chinese cities The authors find that effective coordination relies on the political will of local administrative elites the political significance attached to climate change issues the legitimate authority granted to the coordinating agency and human and financial capitals Collaboration is hampered by limited span of network engagement inadequate authority of the primary network participants insufficient input and output legitimacy of the sectoral innovations and missing linkages across functionally segregated sectors The book concludes that the enhanced collaboration and coordination between networks that has emerged in the process of low carbon transitions is transforming the Chinese environmental state into a more pluralistic inclusive and legitimate one This book will be of interest to researchers and practitioners across disciplines including

Chinese studies environmental politics and policy urban studies and planning and geography

The pursuit of sustainable agriculture in EU free trade agreements Luchino Ferraris, 2023-09-14 This book explores the extent to which EU Free Trade Agreements FTAs pursue sustainable agriculture in third country parties It contends that this should be part of a duty for the EU enshrined in the Treaties to promote its fundamental values in its external action It suggests that the extent to which this occurs in practice may be reviewed judicially by the Court of Justice of the European Union Against this background selected agreements concluded by the EU with developed and developing countries Canada South Korea Ukraine Chile SADC countries and Vietnam are taken as case studies The author concludes that in spite of the remarkable progress made hitherto EU trade policy is still far from being in line with the increasingly strong commitment of the EU to take the lead in the international arena for environmental and climate matters This work adopts primarily a legal methodology but it broaches the subject in interdisciplinary terms It is

The Neighbours of the European Union's Neighbours Sieglinde Gstöhl,Erwan Lannon,2016-02-24 Should the European Neighbourhood Policy stop at the borders of the European Union s immediate neighbouring countries This book is the first full length study of the neighbours of the EU s neighbours a concept originally introduced by the European Commission with reference to Saharan Africa the Middle East and Central Asia These regions in the EU s broader neighbourhood are often perceived as an arc of crisis from which manifold challenges emanate for Europe This timely book takes stock of the state of the EU s cooperation with the neighbours of its neighbours and explores how the concept might help promote security stability and prosperity beyond the countries which are formally part of the European Neighbourhood Policy How can the EU create bridges between these regions What instruments does the EU have at its disposal and how can it link them in order to respond to the challenges and overcome the current fragmentation One of the conclusions is the suggestion to consider a pragmatic EU Strategy for the Neighbours of its Neighbours which addresses the needs of the broader EU neighbourhood in a more systematic and consistent manner and helps transform in the long run the arc of crisis into another ring of friends
