Lakeland: Lakeland Community Heritage Project Inc.,2012-09-18 Lakeland the historical African American community of College Park was formed around 1890 on the doorstep of the Maryland Agricultural College now the University of Maryland in northern Prince George s County Located less than 10 miles from Washington D C the community began when the area was largely rural and overwhelmingly populated by European Americans Lakeland is one of several small African American communities along the U S Route 1 corridor between Washington D C and Laurel Maryland With Lakeland s central geographic location and easy access to train and trolley transportation it became a natural gathering place for African American social and recreational activities and it thrived until its self contained uniqueness was undermined by the federal government s urban renewal program and by societal change The story of Lakeland is the tale of a community that was established and flourished in a segregated society and developed its own institutions and traditions including the area s only high school for African Americans built in 1928

Leadership for Inclusive Education G. Mac Ruairc, E. Ottesen, R. Precey, 2013-02-11 Inclusion is increasingly becoming one of the policy drivers shaping educational discourse and practice What constitutes the term inclusion itself and how ideas derived from the different perspectives on inclusion impact school leadership practice point to a highly contested field of enquiry Originally embedded in discourse relating to special education ideas relating to inclusion are attracting much broader appeal within system reforms in many jurisdictions This book seeks to keep the consideration of inclusion firmly in its broader context and to decouple it from the discourse relating to students with special educational additional needs This allows the authors to position their contributions more explicitly within discourses that draw on difference and diversity as unavoidable features of schools Within this collection we address the current political dogmas in many countries that take a purely rational managerial approach to leadership arguing that this is not contributing to inclusion in schools In doing this the book seeks to shape current discourses on leadership by exploring perspectives which are likely to enhance our understanding of inclusion Tolerance respect listening clarifying language being comfortable with differences and ambiguity and articulating and challenging the rationale behind the way we do things around here are key aspects of inclusive leadership and also fundamental imperatives for writing this book It will be useful to those in education who are engaged in further academic study in education or in reflective practice and to anyone taking advanced programmes in educational leadership and management The international perspectives on the issue of inclusion informing this book ensure that this book will be essential for those engaged in a comparative analysis of leadership practice in different contexts or those concerned with the complexity of ensuring inclusive models of education

Not Under My Roof Amy T. Schalet, 2011-09-30 Winner of the Healthy Teen Network's Carol Mendez Cassell Award for Excellence in Sexuality Education and the American Sociological Association's Children and Youth Section's 2012 Distinguished Scholarly Research Award For American parents teenage sex is something to be feared and forbidden most would never consider allowing their children to have sex at home and sex is a frequent source of family conflict In the Netherlands where teenage pregnancies are far less frequent than in the United States parents aim above all for family cohesiveness often permitting young couples to sleep together and providing them with contraceptives Drawing on extensive interviews with parents and teens Not Under My Roof offers an unprecedented intimate account of the different ways that girls and boys in both countries negotiate love lust and growing up Tracing the roots of the parents divergent attitudes Amy T Schalet reveals how they grow out of their respective conceptions of the self relationships gender autonomy and authority She provides a probing analysis of the way family culture shapes not just sex but also alcohol consumption and parent teen relationships Avoiding caricatures of permissive Europeans and puritanical Americans Schalet shows that the Dutch require self control from teens and parents while Americans guide their children toward autonomous adulthood at the expense of the family bond
