The First 20 Hours Josh Kaufman, 2013-06-13 Forget the 10 000 hour rule what if it s possible to learn the basics of any new skill in 20 hours or less Take a moment to consider how many things you want to learn to do What s on your list What s holding you back from getting started Are you worried about the time and effort it takes to acquire new skills time you don t have and effort you can t spare Research suggests it takes 10 000 hours to develop a new skill In this nonstop world when will you ever find that much time and energy To make matters worse the early hours of prac ticing something new are always the most frustrating That s why it s difficult to learn how to speak a new language play an instrument hit a golf ball or shoot great photos It s so much easier to watch TV or surf the web In The First 20 Hours Josh Kaufman offers a systematic approach to rapid skill acquisition how to learn any new skill as quickly as possible His method shows you how to deconstruct com plex skills maximize productive practice and remove common learning barriers By complet ing just 20 hours of focused deliberate practice you ll go from knowing absolutely nothing to performing noticeably well Kaufman personally field tested the meth ods in this book You ll have a front row seat as he develops a personal yoga practice writes his own web based computer programs teaches himself to touch type on a nonstandard key board explores the oldest and most complex board game in history picks up the ukulele and learns how to windsurf Here are a few of the sim ple techniques he teaches Define your target performance level Fig ure out what your desired level of skill looks like what you re trying to achieve and what you ll be able to do when you re done The more specific the better Deconstruct the skill Most of the things we think of as skills are actually bundles of smaller subskills If you break down the subcompo nents it s easier to figure out which ones are most important and practice those first Eliminate barriers to practice Removing common distractions and unnecessary effort makes it much easier to sit down and focus on deliberate practice Create fast feedback loops Getting accu rate real time information about how well you re performing during practice makes it much easier to improve Whether you want to paint a portrait launch a start up fly an airplane or juggle flaming chain saws The First 20 Hours will help you pick up the basics of any skill in record time and have more fun along the way
