Arabic Literature in the Post-Classical Period Roger Allen,D. S. Richards,2006-04-13 The final volume of The Cambridge History of Arabic Literature explores the Arabic literary heritage of the little known period from the twelfth to the beginning of the nineteenth century Even though it was during this time that the famous Thousand and One Nights was composed very little has been written on the literature of the period generally In this volume Roger Allen and Donald Richards bring together some of the most distinguished scholars in the field to rectify the situation The volume is divided into parts with the traditions of poetry and prose covered separately within both their elite and popular contexts The last two sections are devoted to drama and the indigenous tradition of literary criticism As the only work of its kind in English covering the post classical period this book promises to be a unique resource for students and scholars of Arabic literature for many years to come

Rise of the Bourgeoisie, Demise of Empire Fatma Muge Gocek,1996-02-01 What are the causes of imperial decline This work studies the Ottoman empire in the 18th and 19th centuries to argue that the Ottoman imperial decline resulted from a combination of Ottoman internal dynamics with external influences Specifically it contends that the split within the Ottoman social structure across ethno religious lines interacted with the effects of war and commerce with the West to produce a bifurcated Ottoman bourgeoisie This bourgeoisie divided into disparate commercial and bureaucratic elements was able to challenge the sultan but was ultimately unable to salvage the empire. Instead, the Ottoman empire was replaced by the Turkish nation state and others in the Balkans and the Middle East. This work will appeal to students of sociology and Ottoman studies.

Small Arms Survey 2011 Small Arms Survey, Geneva, 2011-06-30. In examining various aspects of the provision of security, the Small Arms Survey 2011 considers the growth of the private security industry and its firearms holdings worldwide, the firearms holdings of private security personnel, the use of private security companies by multinational corporations, the use of emerging weapons technology among Western police forces, and legislative controls over the civilian possession of firearms in 42 jurisdictions around the world. Case studies provide original research on ongoing security challenges in Côte d'Ivoire, Haiti, and Madagascar. This edition also presents the 2011 Small Arms Trade Transparency Barometer, an estimate of the annual authorized trade in light weapons, and a review of developments related to small arms control at the United Nations.

SIPRI Yearbook 2014 Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, 2014-10-30. The 45th edition of the SIPRI Yearbook analyses developments in 2013 in Security and Conflicts, Military Spending and Armaments, Non-proliferation, Arms Control and Disarmament. The SIPRI Yearbook contains extensive annexes on the implementation of arms control and disarmament agreements and a chronology of events during the year in the area of security and arms control.

The Iranian Languages Gernot Windfuhr, 2013-05-13. The Iranian languages form the major eastern branch of the Indo-European group of languages, itself part of the larger Indo-Iranian family. Estimated to have between 150 and 200 million native speakers, the Iranian languages constitute one of the world's major language families. This comprehensive volume offers a detailed overview of the principal languages which make up this group: Old Iranian, Middle Iranian, and New Iranian. The Iranian Languages is divided into fifteen chapters. The introductory chapters by the editor present a general overview and a detailed discussion of the linguistic typology of Iranian. The individual chapters which follow are written by leading experts in the field. These provide the reader with concise, non-technical descriptions of a range of Iranian languages. Each chapter follows the same pattern and sequence of topics, taking the reader through the significant features, not only of phonology and morphology but also of syntax, from phrase level to complex sentences and pragmatics. Ample examples on all levels are provided with detailed annotation for the non-specialist reader. In addition, each chapter covers lexis, sociolinguistic and typological issues, and concludes with annotated sample texts. This unique resource is the ideal companion for undergraduate and postgraduate students of linguistics and language. It will also be of interest to researchers or anyone with an interest in historical linguistics, linguistics, anthropology, and language development. Gernot Windfuhr is Professor of Iranian Studies at the University of Michigan; he has published widely on Persian and Iranian languages and linguistics, and related languages, as well as on other aspects of Iranian culture, including Persian literature and Pre-Islamic Iranian religions.
