

American Psychological Association (APA) Format

The APA format is the form of documentation most used in science and social science classes, such as psychology, sociology, education, and business.

Format

- ✓ Use Times New Roman, 12-point font size.
- ✓ All terminal punctuation (e.g., periods, question marks) is followed by two spaces. One space is used in reference citations, initials, abbreviations, and with commas, colons, and semicolons.
- ✓ Use One-Inch Margins on all sides of the page.
- ✓ Double-Space throughout the paper.
- ✓ Indent the first line of each paragraph one-half inch from the left margin.
- ✓ All typing is flush-left, with a “ragged right” edge.
- ✓ Do not hyphenate words at the ends of lines.
- ✓ Begin your paper with a Title Page. The title of the paper is typed in upper and lower case letters, centered on the page. If the title requires more than one line, double-space between all the lines. Your name should appear double-spaced below the title, centered on the page. Your instructor may require that you include the name of the class, the instructor’s name, and the date the paper is due, as well as other information.
- ✓ Every page, including the title page, should have a running head. The Running Head (the title that you would like your paper to have, if it were to be published) is typed flush left at the top of the title page and in all upper case letters (see sample below).
 - The running head (along with page numbers) appears in the header of every page. The header by nature is situated within the top one-inch margin of your paper. The page number should be at the top of the page at the right margin.
 - If possible, use the “header” function of your word processing program to automatically repeat this information at the top of all subsequent pages. In Microsoft Word, you should not have to change any of the default settings for your margins or headers, but double-check their settings before beginning your paper.
 - On the title page, in the header, type: Running Head: TITLE.
 - On subsequent pages, only the title is needed, in all CAPS (without “Running head” in front of it).
