The Love of Impermanent Things Mary Rose O'Reilley, 2006 At midlife Mary Rose O'Reilley reflects on her past and her hard won sense of self She is determined now not to sacrifice or waste her self She has struggled for years along the paths set by her suburban childhood her Catholic upbringing her failed marriage and the mute duties of daughterhood Now she is trying to see the world through the eyes of the deer that stop outside her window and look in at her As a wildlife rehabilitator she feels a closer connection to the natural world as experienced by animals As an apprentice potter she sees in a Japanese tea bowl the ultimate balance of action and contemplation As a Quaker she can both sit still and sing And as a writer O'Reilley can speak clearly to readers at midlife who are expected to know it all but don't

Hindsight, Insight, Foresight: Thinking About Security in the Indo-Pacific Alexander L. Vuving, 2020-09-30 Hindsight Insight Foresight is a tour d'horizon of security issues in the Indo Pacific Written by 20 current and former members of the faculty at the Daniel K Inouye Asia Pacific Center for Security Studies its 21 chapters provide hindsight insight and foresight on numerous aspects of security in the region This book will help readers to understand the big picture grasp the changing faces and comprehend the local dynamics of regional security

Buddha's Brain Rick Hanson, 2011-07-13 Jesus Moses Mohammed Gandhi and the Buddha all had brains built essentially like anyone else's yet they were able to harness their thoughts and shape their patterns of thinking in ways that changed history With new breakthroughs in modern neuroscience and the wisdom of thousands of years of contemplative practice it is possible for us to shape our own thoughts in a similar way for greater happiness love compassion and wisdom Buddha's Brain joins the forces of modern neuroscience with ancient contemplative teachings to show readers how they can work toward greater emotional well being healthier relationships more effective actions and deepened religious and spiritual understanding This book will explain how the core elements of both psychological well being and religious or spiritual life virtue mindfulness and wisdom are based in the core functions of the brain regulating learning and valuing Readers will also learn practical ways to apply this information as the book offers many exercises they can do to tap the unused potential of the brain and rewire it over time for greater peace and well being

Radical Presence Mary Rose O'Reilley, 1998 Radical Presence is a book about our lives as well as our work suggesting that the secrets of good teaching are the same as the secrets of good living seeing one's self without blinking offering hospitality to the alien other having compassion for suffering speaking truth to power being present and being real These are secrets hidden in plain sight But in an age that puts more faith in the powers of technique than in the powers of the human heart it takes the clear sight and courage of someone like Mary Rose O'Reilley to call secrets of this sort to our attention Radical Presence asks What might happen if we frame the central questions of our profession as spiritual issues and deal with them in light of our spiritual traditions The basis of O'Reilley's remarks is not religious it is pedagogical She does not preach she shares Writing of the human condition O Reilley places herself first in line not as an ego or leader but as a friend and guide Over the course of her journey she seeks to discover what spaces we can create in the classroom that will allow students the freedom to nourish an inner life This is an important book that will have a significant impact on the way educators view teaching and learning O Reilley writes Some pedagogical practices crush the soul most of us have suffered their bruising force Others allow the spirit to come home to self to community and to the revelations of reality This book is my own try at articulating a space in which teacher and student can practice this radical presence

Inside the American Couple Marilyn Yalom, Laura Carstensen, 2002-08-07 By interrogating rather than accepting traditional platitudes about our need to be coupled this vital and original collection both broadens our understanding of what constitutes a couple and deepens our appreciation for the human needs that coupling meets Michael S Kimmel author of Manhood in America A Cultural Reader Reading this book is like looking at a crystal first one interesting facet of coupledness and then another comes into view It s entrancing Barrie Thorne Director Center for Working Families University of California Berkeley This wonderfully important book shows where the couple has been and where it is going challenging us to simultaneously remake and redefine coupledness for ourselves Reassuring and enlightening Inside the American Couple is essential reading for anyone concerned with joining in partnership and love with another human being Rebecca Walker author of Black White and Jewish Autobiography of a Shifting Self

The Digital Dialectic Peter Lunenfeld, 2000 How our visual and intellectual cultures are changed by the new interaction based media and technologies

Half Wild Mary Rose O'Reilley, 2006-04-01 Half Wild is spiritual biography wound backwards spiraling into the world rather than out of it Though it reflects on the paradoxes of our violent times Mary Rose O Reilley s collection hangs on to life like the bee up to his hips in love who will fall asleep in the snow and wake up still kissing his flower In O Reilley s poems human animal and mineral creations interpenetrate and share surreal conversation even stones exchange stories of hot times in the magma and animals are listened to intently Here sacred inquiry is grounded in a passion for the natural world resolving questions through lyric erotic and sensual response The poems of Half Wild revel in desire and longing as instruments of theological critique You were the part of me that gave itself to death Sometimes I dream of eyes sealed with a membrane of unknowing like a mystic s veil that open to my glance without surprise Sometimes I dream of perfect understanding Sometimes I snatch at hands that seem to seek as through a caul Sometimes I waken With an infant s shriek from Twin

The Garden at Night Mary Rose O'Reilley, 2005 Whether you re a beginning teacher trying to sustain your idealism or an experienced professional courting burnout take a deep breath and read this book

A History of Communications Marshall T. Poe, 2010-12-06 A History of Communications advances a theory of media that explains the origins and impact of different forms of communication speech writing print electronic devices and the Internet on human history in the long term New media are pulled into widespread use by broad historical trends and these media once in widespread use push social institutions and beliefs in predictable directions This view allows us to see for the first time what is truly new about the Internet what is not and where it is taking us

Authoritative Communities Kathleen Kovner Kline, 2007-11-25 This unique book offers insight into a new social science concept authoritative communities Unlike any other volume Kline's work facilitates the continuing dialogue about the needs of children and teens and society's responsibility to nurture its greatest human capital The report that led to the development of this volume Hardwired to Connect identified a need in today's children and youth and communicated a solution that society believes is valid

The Peaceable Classroom Mary Rose O'Reilly, 1993 The Peaceable Classroom first defines a pedagogy of nonviolence and then analyzes certain contemporary approaches to rhetoric and literary studies in light of nonviolent theory

The Stack Benjamin H. Bratton, 2016-02-19 A comprehensive political and design theory of planetary scale computation proposing that The Stack an accidental megastructure is both a technological apparatus and a model for a new geopolitical architecture What has planetary scale computation done to our geopolitical realities It takes different forms at different scales from energy and mineral sourcing and subterranean cloud infrastructure to urban software and massive universal addressing systems from interfaces drawn by the augmentation of the hand and eye to users identified by self quantification and the arrival of legions of sensors algorithms and robots Together how do these distort and deform modern political geographies and produce new territories in their own image In The Stack Benjamin Bratton proposes that these different genres of computation smart grids cloud platforms mobile apps smart cities the Internet of Things automation can be seen not as so many species evolving on their own but as forming a coherent whole an accidental megastructure called The Stack that is both a computational apparatus and a new governing architecture We are inside The Stack and it is inside of us In an account that is both theoretical and technical drawing on political philosophy architectural theory and software studies Bratton explores six layers of The Stack Earth Cloud City Address Interface User Each is mapped on its own terms and understood as a component within the larger whole built from hard and soft systems intermingling not only computational forms but also social human and physical forces This model informed by the logic of the multilayered structure of protocol stacks in which network technologies operate within a modular and vertical order offers a comprehensive image of our emerging infrastructure and a platform for its ongoing reinvention The Stack is an interdisciplinary design brief for a new geopolitics that works with and for planetary scale computation Interweaving the continental urban and perceptual scales it shows how we can better build dwell within communicate with and govern our worlds thestack.org

Dada Leah Dickerman, Brigid Doherty, Centre Georges Pompidou, National Gallery of Art (U.S.), Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.), 2005 Edited by Leah Dickerman Essays by Brigid Doherty Sabine T Kriebel Dorothea Dietrich Michael R Taylor Janine Mileaf and Matthew S Witkovsky Foreword by Earl A Powell III

Text and Genre in Reconstruction Willard McCarty, 2010 In this broad reaching multi disciplinary collection leading scholars investigate how the digital medium has altered the way we read and write text In doing so it challenges the very notion of scholarship as it has traditionally been imagined Incorporating scientific socio historical materialist and theoretical approaches this rich body of work explores topics ranging from how computers have affected our relationship to language whether the book has become an obsolete object the nature of online journalism and the psychology of authorship The essays offer a significant contribution to the growing debate on how digitization is shaping our collective identity for better or worse Text and Genre in Reconstruction will appeal to scholars in both the humanities and sciences and provides essential reading for anyone interested in the changing relationship between reader and text in the digital age

Self-Build Homes Michaela Benson,Iqbal Hamiduddin,2017-11-27 Self Build Homes connects the burgeoning interdisciplinary research on self build with commentary from leading international figures in the self build and wider housing sector Through their focus on community dwelling home and identity the chapters explore the various meanings of self build housing encouraging new directions for discussions about self building and calling for the recognition of the social dimensions of this process from consideration of the structures policies and practices that shape it through to the lived experience of individuals and households Divided into four parts Discourse Rationale Meaning Values Lifestyles Imaginaries Community and Identity and Perspectives from Practice the volume comes at a time of renewed focus from policy managers and practitioners as well as prospective builders themselves on self build as a means for producing homes that are more stylised affordable and appropriate for the specific needs of households It responds to recent advances in housing and planning policy while also bringing this into conversation with interdisciplinary perspectives from across the social sciences on housing home and homemaking In this way the book seeks to update understandings of self build and to account for housing as a distinctly social process

Mindfulness J. Mark G. Williams,Jon Kabat-Zinn,2013-10-18 Mindfulness based approaches to medicine psychology neuroscience healthcare education business leadership and other major societal institutions have become increasingly common New paradigms are emerging from a confluence of two powerful and potentially synergistic epistemologies one arising from the wisdom traditions of Asia and the other arising from post enlightenment empirical science This book presents the work of internationally renowned experts in the fields of Buddhist scholarship and scientific research as well as looking at the implementation of mindfulness in healthcare and education settings Contributors consider the use of mindfulness throughout history and look at the actual meaning of mindfulness whilst identifying the most salient areas for potential synergy and for potential disjunction Mindfulness Diverse Perspectives on its Meanings Origins and Applications provides a place where wisdom teachings philosophy history science and personal meditation practice meet It was originally published as a special issue of Contemporary Buddhism

Theory of Fundamental Processes Richard Feynman,2018-02-19 This book considers the basic ideas of quantum mechanics treating the concept of amplitude and discusses relativity and the idea of anti particles and explains quantum electrodynamics It provides experienced researchers with an invaluable introduction to fundamental processes

Play It Again, Sam Andrew Horton, Stuart Y. McDougal, 2022-03-25 This title was originally published in 1998 Play It Again Sam is a timely investigation of a topic that until now has received almost no critical attention in film and cultural studies the cinematic remake As cinema enters its second century more remakes are appearing than ever before and these writers consider the full range Hollywood films that have been recycled by Hollywood such as The Jazz Singer Cape Fear and Robin Hood foreign films including Breathless and Three Men and a Baby which Hollywood has reworked for American audiences and foreign films based on American works among them Yugoslav director Emir Kusturica's Time of the Gypsies which is a makeover of Coppola's Godfather films As these essays demonstrate films are remade by other films Alfred Hitchcock went so far as to remake his own The Man Who Knew Too Much and by other media as well The editors and contributors draw upon narrative film and cultural theories and consider gender genre and psychological issues presenting the remake as a special artistic form of repetition with a difference and as a commercial product aimed at profits in the marketplace The remake flourishes at the crossroads of the old and the new the known and the unknown Play It Again Sam takes the reader on an eye opening tour of this hitherto unexplored territory This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1998 Book of Anonymity Anon Collective, 2021-03-04
