Five Forces Analysis Fast Fashion Industry

Analyzing the Austrian fashion industry according to Porter's five forces Mathias Varga, 2010-07-06 Seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject Business economics Operations Research grade B Stuttgart Institute of Management and Technology language English abstract In this paper Austria's jeans and lifestyle branch will be analyzed with particular reference to Porter's competitive strategies The first part of this paper takes a look at Porter's five competitive strategies and their context The second part deals with the jeans and lifestyle branch in Austria and the influence of the five competitive strategies on this industry Competitive strategy provides a comprehensive framework for understanding the forces at the basis of the competition in the industry summarized by the five competitive forces This framework illuminates the important branch specific differences shows the development of industries and helps companies in finding a unique competitive position Industries change with increasing pressure and thus industry structures as well as borders between industries are reconfigured While companies of the nineties are substantially different than in the seventies or eighties high profitability is still based on cost advantages and differentiation One might believe that faster development cycles or total quality management are the key to the competition but the crucial point to determine to what extent these methods influence the competition and the relative cost position of a company as well as its ability to differentiate and to enforce surcharges

Strategies and Structure of the Luxury Clothing and Accessories Sector Mirela Orlovic, 2003-07-04 Inhaltsangabe Introduction The luxury goods industry is a fascinating field As Jean Louis Dumas Herm's chairman and CEO of Herm's explains Le luxe c'est cr er un r ve qui perdure In addition to the dream dimension that defies scientific analysis the luxury goods companies have kept highly secretive Alain D Perrin President and CEO at Cartier International elucidates One of our strengths is our ability to maintain a certain mystery about the economic entity which is the company We bring magic and dreams to consumers who don't want to see their favourite brands discussed in the media and lacking any sense of the romantic Systematic research confines itself mainly to specialised marketing literature especially that of French scholars But recent developments have raised various questions and call for more systematic research in diverse fields Over the past two decades luxury companies in particular in the clothing sector have had to face an increasingly turbulent environment On the supply side French dominance especially in the haute couture sector has been challenged as competition has increased mainly from Italian and American fashion houses Furthermore the traditionally fragmented luxury industry has become more concentrated a visible sign for the consolidation was the merger of Louis Vuitton and Mo t Hennessy in 1987 Finally as a result of diversification strategies most fashion houses have extended to more accessible luxury products and as a result realize now a substantial part of sales in both clothing and accessories But also the demand side has been substantially changing In 1899 the American economist Thorstein Veblen published the first proper study of consumerism in which he identified and analysed the traditional luxury customer group which he called leisure class It was not until the 1980s that the leisure class was joined by newly rich and occasional customers from the middle class On the one hand the luxury industry has expanded to more accessible products and to new geographical markets and on the other hand a growth in wealth of the Western industrialized nations has increased purchase of luxury goods These mostly fundamental changes have challenged and will furthermore challenge the fashion houses and the ability to establish a competitive advantage The objective of this thesis is gaining a thorough understanding of the luxury clothing and accessories sector by elaborating on
