

PERSONAL PROTECTION SPECIALIST (PPS) Training Course Syllabus and Lesson Plan

Fijian Solutions Group International, (FSGI), offers comprehensive security industry education and training to persons interested in gaining Personal Protection Specialist (PPS) Guard certification.

Personal Protection Specialist - Defined

A personal protection specialist refers to any individual who engages in the work of providing close protection (i.e. bodyguard, executive protection) services for compensation with the goal of ensuring the client's personal safety from the risk or threat of physical harm, kidnap, assassination, or public embarrassment.

Course Narrative

Personal Protection Specialist training offered by FSGI is structured and delivered in a manner to thoroughly inform, educate and train course attendees in how to successfully perform common tasks associated with protecting high profile persons from security threats or risks during vehicle transport, inside of a building, residence, or during foot movement when deployed in a low-to-medium threat environment.

Hostile environment personal protective services instruction is reserved exclusively for qualified and cleared government contractors pending overseas deployment.*

Course Duration

This PPS course is six (6) consecutive days in length, offering a total of sixty-four (64) training hours. Actual training starts promptly at 8:30am each morning, concluding between 6:30pm to 8:30pm daily. Some training modules may last well into the evening hours.

Class Capacity

This course allows a maximum class capacity of twenty-four (24) attendees with a student-to-instructor ratio of 4-to-1.

Lal,Michael Pretes,2008-12-01 May 19 2000 Fiji s democratically elected multiracial government is hijacked by a group of armed gunmen led by George Speight and held hostage for fifty days Suva the capital is torched and looted as Speight s supporters gather on the lawns of the parliamentary complex dancing cooking food celebrating the purported abrogation of the constitution that brought the People s Coalition government to power The country is plunged into darkness yet again enduring the pain of three coups in a period of just thirteen years The process of healing and reconciliation symbolised by the enactment of a new Constitution unanimously approved by Parliament and blessed by the powerful Great Council of Chiefs lies discarded as winds of ethnic chauvinism sweep through the countryside damaging the fragile fabric of multiculturalism that was carefully constructed by so many over many years The economy is on the brink of collapse investor confidence has vanished and the best and the brightest are seeking succour on other shores Fiji falls victim yet again to the prejudice and greed of a section of its people This book gathers together a handful of memoirs of those tragic events in Fiji They were written while the gun was still smoking personal anguished reactions of people from all walks of life concerned about a country they all love but deeply distressed by the developments there They are first reactions They will in time become essential building blocks for a larger interpretive framework of academic analysis about origins processes and impacts Straight from the heart these memoirs will be remembered as the people of Fiji and their friends elsewhere contemplate the wreckage and ruin brought about by that act of madness in the month of May 2000 Shadow Force David Isenberg, 2008-12-30 From their limited use in China during World War II for example to their often clandestine use in Vietnam ferrying supplies before the war escalated in 1964 and 1965 when their role became more prominent and public private military contractors PMCs have played made essential contributions to the success and failures of the military and United States Today with an emphasis on force restructuring mandated by the Pentagon the role of PMCs and their impact on policy making decisions is at an all time peak This work analyzes that impact focusing specifically on PMCs in Iraq since the fall of Saddam Hussein in 2003 Isenberg dissects their responsibilities the friction that exists between contractors and military commanders problems of protocol and accountability as well as the problems of regulation and control that PMC companies create for domestic politics Isenberg organizes his work thematically addressing all facets of PMCs in the current conflict from identifying who the most influential companies are and how they got to that point to the issues that the government military and contractors themselves face when they take the field He also analyzes the problem of command control and accountability It is no secret that PMCs have been the source of consternation and grief to American military commanders in the field As they work to establish more routine protocols in the field however questions are also being raised about the role of the contractors here at home The domestic political arena is perhaps the most crucial battleground on which the contractors must have success After all they make their corporate living off of taxpayer dollars and as such calls for regulation have resonated throughout Washington D C growing louder as the profile of PMCs increases during the current conflict Pacific Islands Monthly ,1993
