The Model Occupation Madeleine Bunting, 2014-07-24 A masterly work of profound research and reflection, objective and humane. Hugh Trevor Roper, Sunday Telegraph. What would have happened if the Nazis had invaded Britain? How would the British people have responded with resistance or collaboration? In Madeleine Bunting's pioneering study, we begin to find the answers to this age-old question. Though rarely remembered today, the Nazis occupied the British Channel Islands for much of the Second World War. In piecing together the fragments left behind from the love affairs between island women and German soldiers, the betrayals and black marketeering to the individual acts of resistance, Madeleine Bunting has brought this uncomfortable episode of British history into full view with spellbinding clarity.

Written/Unwritten Patricia A. Matthew, 2016-10-03 The academy may claim to seek and value diversity in its professoriate, but reports from faculty of color around the country make clear that departments and administrators discriminate in ways that range from unintentional to malignant. Stories abound of scholars, despite impressive records of publication, excellent teaching evaluations, and exemplary service to their universities, struggling on the tenure track. These stories, however, are rarely shared for public consumption. Written/Unwritten reveals that faculty of color often face two sets of rules when applying for reappointment, tenure, and promotion: those made explicit in handbooks and faculty orientations, or determined by union contracts; and those that operate beneath the surface. It is this second, unwritten set of rules that disproportionately affects faculty who are hired to diversify academic departments and then expected to meet ever-shifting requirements set by tenured colleagues and administrators. Patricia A. Matthew and her contributors reveal how these implicit processes undermine the quality of research and teaching in American colleges and universities. They also show what is possible when universities persist in their efforts to create a diverse and more equitable professorate. These narratives hold the academy accountable while providing a pragmatic view about how it might improve itself and how that improvement can extend to academic culture at large. The contributors and interviewees are Ariana E. Alexander, Marlon M. Bailey, Houston A. Baker Jr., Dionne Benson-Smith, Leslie Bow, Angie Chabram, Andreana Clay, Jane Chin, Davidson April L. Few, Demo Eric, Anthony Grollman, Carmen V. Harris, Rashida L. Harrison, Ayanna Jackson, Fowler Roshanak, Kheshti, Patricia A. Matthew, Fred Piercy, Deepa S.
