Swimmer Among the Stars Kanishk Tharoor, 2017-03-14 Named a Best Book of the Year by The Guardian and NPR A writer who is gifted not just with extraordinary talent but also with a subtle original and probing mind Amitav Ghosh In one of the singularly imaginative stories from Kanishk Tharoor's Swimmer Among the Stars despondent diplomats entertain themselves by playing table tennis in zero gravity for after rising seas destroy Manhattan the United Nations moves to an orbiting space hotel In other tales a team of anthropologists treks to a remote village to record a language's last surviving speaker intoning her native tongue an elephant and his driver cross the ocean to meet the whims of a Moroccan princess and Genghis Khan's marauding army steadily approaches an unnamed city's walls With exuberant originality and startling vision Tharoor cuts against the grain of literary convention drawing equally from ancient history and current events His world spanning stories speak to contemporary challenges of environmental collapse and cultural appropriation but also to the workings of legend and their timeless human truths Whether refashioning the romances of Alexander the Great or confronting the plight of today's refugees Tharoor writes with distinctive insight and remarkable assurance Swimmer Among the Stars announces the arrival of a vital enchanting talent

The Black Hill Mamang Dai, 2014 Set in the mid nineteenth century the action takes place in the Northeast the region that spreads from Assam to Arunachal today The East India Company is seeking to make inroads into the region and the local people in particular the Abor and Mishmee tribes fear their coming and are doing all they can to keep them out of their territories The author takes a recorded historical event the mysterious disappearance of a French priest Father Nicolas Krick in the 1850s and the execution of Kajinsha from the Mishmee tribe for his murder and woven a gripping densely imagined work of fiction around it And even as the novel tells the story of an impossible journey and an elopement it explores the themes of the lure of unknown worlds the love people have for each other and their land and the forces of history Gimur a girl from the Abor tribe runs away with Kajinsha from the Mishmee tribe and they settle down on his land near the Tibetan border Father Krick's attempts to reach Tibet to set up a Jesuit mission are foiled repeatedly by the local people not because of any personal animus towards the priests or their work but because they feel rightly that once the priests come the British with their guns and their garrisons will follow The story revolves around events in Gimur's and Kajinsha's villages and is also seen from the point of view of Father Krick a gentle intelligent man devout but no bigot whose determination to reach Tibet no matter what the cost impacts tragically on all those who encounter him
