Final Report of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada, Volume One: Summary Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada, 2015-07-22 This is the Final Report of Canada's Truth and Reconciliation Commission and its six year investigation of the residential school system for Aboriginal youth and the legacy of these schools This report the summary volume includes the history of residential schools the legacy of that school system and the full text of the Commission's 94 recommendations for action to address that legacy This report lays bare a part of Canada's history that until recently was little known to most non Aboriginal Canadians The Commission discusses the logic of the colonization of Canada's territories and why and how policy and practice developed to end the existence of distinct societies of Aboriginal peoples Using brief excerpts from the powerful testimony heard from Survivors this report documents the residential school system which forced children into institutions where they were forbidden to speak their language required to discard their clothing in favour of institutional wear given inadequate food housed in inferior and fire prone buildings required to work when they should have been studying and subjected to emotional psychological and often physical abuse In this setting cruel punishments were all too common as was sexual abuse More than 30 000 Survivors have been compensated financially by the Government of Canada for their experiences in residential schools but the legacy of this experience is ongoing today This report explains the links to high rates of Aboriginal children being taken from their families abuse of drugs and alcohol and high rates of suicide The report documents the drastic decline in the presence of Aboriginal languages even as Survivors and others work to maintain their distinctive cultures traditions and governance The report offers 94 calls to action on the part of governments churches public institutions and non Aboriginal Canadians as a path to meaningful reconciliation of Canada today with Aboriginal citizens Even though the historical experience of residential schools constituted an act of cultural genocide by Canadian government authorities the United Nations declaration of the rights of aboriginal peoples and the specific recommendations of the Commission offer a path to move from apology for these events to true reconciliation that can be embraced by all Canadians

Cultural Techniques Bernhard Siegert, 2015-05-01 In a crucial shift within posthumanistic media studies Bernhard Siegert dissolves the concept of media into a network of operations that reproduce displace process and reflect the distinctions fundamental for a given culture Cultural Techniques aims to forget our traditional understanding of media so as to redefine the concept through something more fundamental than the empiricist study of a medium's individual or collective uses or of its cultural semantics or aesthetics Rather Siegert seeks to relocate media and culture on a level where the distinctions between object and performance matter and form human and nonhuman sign and channel the symbolic and the real are still in the process of becoming The result is to turn ontology into a domain of all that is meant in German by the word Kultur Cultural techniques comprise not only self-referential symbolic practices like reading writing counting or image making The analysis of artifacts as cultural techniques emphasizes their ontological status as in between shifting from first-order to second-order techniques from the technical to the artistic from object to sign from the natural to the cultural from the operational to the representational Cultural Techniques ranges from seafaring drafting and eating to the production of the sign signal distinction in old and new media to the reproduction of anthropological difference to the study of trompe l'oeils grids registers and doors Throughout Siegert addresses fundamental questions of how ontological distinctions can be replaced by chains of operations that process those alleged ontological distinctions within the ontic Grounding posthumanist theory both historically and technically this book opens up a crucial dialogue between new German media theory and American postcybernetic discourses

Liquid Life Rachel Armstrong,2019 If we lived in a liquid world the concept of a machine would make no sense Liquid life is metaphor and apparatus that discusses the consequences of thinking working and living through liquids It is an irreducible paradoxical parallel planetary scale material condition unevenly distributed spatially but temporally continuous It is what remains when logical explanations can no longer account for the experiences that we recognize as part of being alive Liquid Life references a third millennial understanding of matter that seeks to restore the agency of the liquid soul for an ecological era which has been banished by reductionist brute materialist discourses and mechanical models of life Offering an alternative worldview of the living realm through a new materialist and liquid study of matter Armstrong conjures forth examples of creatures that do not obey mechanistic concepts like predictability efficiency and rationality With the advent of molecular science an increasingly persuasive ontology of liquid technologies can be identified Through the lens of lifelike dynamic droplets the agency for these systems exists at the interfaces between different fields of matter energy that respond to highly local effects with no need for a central organizing system Liquid Life seeks an alternative partnership between humanity and the natural world It provokes a re invention of the languages of the living realm to open up alternative spaces for exploration including contributor Rolf Hughes angelology of language which explores the transformative invocations of prose poetry and Simone Ferracina s graphical notations that help shape our concepts of metabolism upcycling and designing with fluids A conceptual and practical toolset for thinking and designing liquid life reunites us with the irreducible soul substance of living things which will neither be simply solved nor go away
