All The Money In World What Happiest People Know About Getting And Spending Laura Vanderkam

All the Money in the World Laura Vanderkam,2013-05-28 The universal lament about money is that there is never enough We spend endless hours trying to figure out ways to stretch every dollar and kicking ourselves whenever we spend too much or save too little For all the stress and effort we put into every choice why are most of us unhappy about our finances According to Laura Vanderkam the key is to change your perspective Instead of looking at money as a scarce resource consider it a tool that you can use creatively to build a better life for yourself and the people you care about Drawing on the latest happiness research as well as the stories of dozens of real people Vanderkam offers a contrarian approach that forces us to examine our own beliefs goals and values 168 Hours Laura Vanderkam,2011-05-31 It s an unquestioned truth of modern life we are starved for time We tell ourselves we d like to read more get to the gym regularly try new hobbies and accomplish all kinds of goals But then we give up because there just aren t enough hours to do it all Or if we don t make excuses we make sacrifices taking time out from other things in order to fit it all in There has to be a better way and Laura Vanderkam has found one After interviewing dozens of successful happy people she realized that they allocate their time differently than most of us Instead of letting the daily grind crowd out the important stuff they start by making sure there s time for the important stuff When plans go wrong and they run out of time only their lesser priorities suffer Vanderkam shows that with a little examination and prioritizing you ll find it is possible to sleep eight hours a night exercise five days a week take piano lessons and write a novel without giving up quality time for work family and other things that really matter The Nesting Place Myquillyn Smith,2014-04-29 Create the home and life you ve always wanted with the help of popular blogger and author of Cozy Minimalist Home Myquillyn Smith The Nester as she helps you free yourself to take risks and find beauty in imperfection Myquillyn Smith is all about embracing reality especially when it comes to decorating a home bursting with kids pets and all the unpredictable messes of life In The Nesting Place Myquillyn shares the secrets of decorating for real people and it has nothing to do with creating a flawless look to wow your guests and everything to do with making peace with the natural imperfection and joy of daily living Drawing on her years of experience creating beauty in her 13 different homes and countless seasons of life Myquillyn will show you how to think differently about the true purpose of your home and simply and creatively tailor it to reflect you and your unique style without breaking the bank Full of simple steps practical advice and beautiful full color photos The Nesting Place gives you the tools you need to Cultivate a home that works for you and your family Transform your home into a place that s inviting and warm for family and friends Discover your own personal style There is beauty in embracing the lived in loved on and just about used up aspects of our homes and our daily lives let Myquillyn show you how Praise for The Nesting Place This book made me look at every room in my house differently with a new lens of creativity and beauty and possibility It inspired me to reclaim my home as sacred space ripe with opportunities to celebrate and create memories and moments Shauna Niequist New York Times bestselling author of Present Over Perfect and I Guess I Haven't Learned That Yet This highly personal account about embracing imperfection and finding contentment in your home is like sitting down with a good friend and talking about the stuff that really matters The Nesting Place is full of approachable ideas encouragement and a whole lot of heart Sherry Petersik home blogger bestselling author of Young House Love

The Opposite of Spoiled Ron Lieber, 2015-02-03 New York Times Bestseller We all want to raise children with good values children who are the opposite of spoiled yet we often neglect to talk to our children about money From handling the tooth fairy to tips on allowance chores charity checking accounts and part time jobs this engaging and important book is a must read for parents Gretchen Rubin author of The Happiness Project In the spirit of Wendy Mogel's The Blessing of a Skinned Knee and Po Bronson and Ashley Merryman's Nurture Shock New York Times Your Money columnist Ron Lieber delivers a taboo shattering manifesto that explains how talking openly to children about money can help parents raise modest patient grounded young adults who are financially wise beyond their years For Ron Lieber a personal finance columnist and father good parenting means talking about money with our kids Children are hyper aware of money and they have scores of questions about its nuances But when parents shy away from the topic they lose a tremendous opportunity not just to model the basic financial behaviors that are increasingly important for young adults but also to imprint lessons about what the family truly values Written in a warm accessible voice grounded in real world experience and stories from families with a range of incomes The Opposite of Spoiled is both a practical guidebook and a values based philosophy The foundation of the book is a detailed blueprint for the best ways to handle the basics the tooth fairy allowance chores charity saving birthdays holidays cell phones checking accounts clothing cars part time jobs and college tuition It identifies a set of traits and virtues that embody the opposite of spoiled and shares how to embrace the topic of money to help parents raise kids who are more generous and less materialistic But The Opposite of Spoiled is also a promise to our kids that we will make them better with money than we are It is for all of the parents who know that honest conversations about money with their curious children can help them become more patient and prudent but who don't know how and when to start

I Know How She Does It Laura Vanderkam, 2017-01-03 Everyone has an opinion anecdote or horror story about women and work Now the acclaimed author of What the Most Successful People Do Before Breakfast shows how real working women with families are actually making the most of their time Having it all has become the subject of countless books articles debates and social media commentary with passions running high in all directions Many now believe this to be gospel truth Any woman who wants to advance in a challenging career has to make huge sacrifices She's unlikely to have a happy marriage quality time with her kids assuming she can have kids at all a social life hobbies or even a decent night's sleep. But what if balancing work and family is actually not as hard as it's made out to be? What if all those tragic anecdotes ignore the women who quietly but consistently do just fine with the juggle? Instead of relying on scattered stories, time management expert Laura Vanderkam set out to add hard data to the debate. She collected hour-by-hour time logs from 1,001 days in the lives of women who make at least 100,000 a year. And she found some surprising patterns in how these women spend the 168 hours that every one of us has each week. Overall, these women worked less and slept more than they assumed they did before they started tracking their time. They went jogging or to the gym, played with their children, scheduled date nights with their significant others, and had lunches with friends. They made time for the things that gave them pleasure and meaning, fitting the pieces together like tiles in a mosaic without adhering to overly rigid schedules that would eliminate flexibility and spontaneity. Vanderkam shares specific strategies that her subjects use to make time for the things that really matter to them. For instance, they work split shifts such as seven hours at work, four off, then another two at night from home. This allows them to see their kids without falling behind professionally. Get creative about what counts as quality family time. Breakfasts together and morning story time count as much as daily family dinners, and they're often easier to manage. Take it easy on the housework. You can free up a lot of time by embracing the philosophy of good enough and getting help from other members of your household or a cleaning service. Guard their leisure time. Full weekend getaways may be rare, but many satisfying hobbies can be done in small bursts of time. An hour of crafting feels better than an hour of reality TV. With examples from hundreds of real women, Vanderkam proves that you don't have to give up on the things you really want.

I Know How She Does It will inspire you to build a life that works one hour at a time. How to Invest Your Time Like Money Elizabeth Grace Saunders, 2015-02-17. Get out of time debt. How to Invest Your Time Like Money is a concise, practical guide to get you out of time debt. Unlike others who create the false hope that if only you worked harder, faster, longer, and smarter, you could do everything you want and make everyone happy, time coach Elizabeth Grace Saunders introduces a process to better manage your limited time so you can focus on what's important. Her method will help you avoid letting everyday pressures and demands get in the way. Using proven techniques and exercises based on the principles of personal finance, readers will learn to identify their time debt, create a balanced budget, build a base schedule, maximize their time ROI, and identify a process to get back on track and stay there. Off the Clock Laura Vanderkam, 2018-05-29. I well recall a conversation with an executive I hoped to interview about her astonishing productivity. I began our call with an assurance that I would not take much of her time. She laughed, "Oh, I have all the time in the world," she said. Most of us feel constantly behind, unsure how to escape feeling oppressed by busyness. Laura Vanderkam, unlike other time management gurus, believes that in order to get more done, we must first feel like we have all the time in the world. Think about it: why haven't you trained for that 5K or read War and Peace? Probably because you feel beaten down by all the time you don't seem to have. In this book, Vanderkam reveals the seven counterintuitive principles the most time-free people have adopted. She teaches mindset shifts to help you feel calm on the busiest days and tools to help you get more done without feeling overwhelmed You ll meet people such as An elementary school principal who figured out how to spend more time mentoring teachers and less time supervising the cafeteria An executive who builds lots of meeting free space into his calendar despite managing teams across multiple continents A CEO who does focused work in a Waffle House early in the morning so he can keep an open door and a relaxed mindset all day An artist who overcame a creative block and reached new heights of productivity by being more gentle with herself rather than more demanding The strategies in this book can help if your life feels out of control but they can also help if you want to take your career your relationships and your personal happiness to the next level Vanderkam has packed this book with insights from busy yet relaxed professionals including time makeovers of people who are learning how to use these tools Off the Clock can inspire the rest of us to create lives that are not only productive but enjoyable in the moment
