Lakeland: Lakeland Community Heritage Project Inc.,2012-09-18 Lakeland the historical African American community of College Park was formed around 1890 on the doorstep of the Maryland Agricultural College now the University of Maryland in northern Prince George s County Located less than 10 miles from Washington D C the community began when the area was largely rural and overwhelmingly populated by European Americans Lakeland is one of several small African American communities along the U S Route 1 corridor between Washington D C and Laurel Maryland With Lakeland s central geographic location and easy access to train and trolley transportation it became a natural gathering place for African American social and recreational activities and it thrived until its self contained uniqueness was undermined by the federal government s urban renewal program and by societal change The story of Lakeland is the tale of a community that was established and flourished in a segregated society and developed its own institutions and traditions including the area s only high school for African Americans built in 1928 Beyond Belief Yorke M. Rowan,2012-05-22 This volume details recent archaeological explorations of ancient religion and sacred ritual The chapters bring multiple perspectives and differing methodological approaches to case studies representing widely divergent regions and time periods to illustrate some of the most recent methodological and theoretical approaches to the archaeological study of ancient religion and ritual PISA 2009 Results: Learning to Learn Student Engagement, Strategies and Practices (Volume III) OECD,2010-12-07 This volume of PISA 2009 results examines 15 year olds motivation their engagement with reading and their use of effective learning strategies Assessment in Practice Alicia Curtin,Kevin Cahill,Kathy Hall,Dan O'Sullivan,Kamil Özerk,2019-10-01

Assessment in Practice explores timely and important questions in relation to assessment. By examining the relationship between identity, culture, policy and inclusion, the book investigates the conflicted and fractured battleground of assessment and challenges current and practiced understandings of assessment practice. The authors encourage the reader to reconceptualise assessment as a sociocultural practice. Each chapter studies a key theme in the understanding of assessment policy and practice from a sociocultural perspective and provides questions to prompt reflection on the key assessment concepts outlined in the book. Using culture as both a lens and analytic tool, the chapters examine topics such as: The social order of assessment; how assessment works in the world and how learning could be assessed; Perspectives on social justice and assessment with a particular focus on social class and other potential inequalities; on the experiences of assessment for young people; Discussions of ability and the assessment of students with special education needs as well as the role of inclusivity in assessment practice. Written by leading academics from University College Cork, the third volume in the successful Routledge Current Debates in Educational Psychology series is an essential read for researchers and postgraduate students in educational research and education psychology.

PISA Under Examination Miguel A. Pereyra, Hans-Georg Kotthoff, Robert Cowen, 2012-03-24. From the 23rd to 26th of November 2009 in La Palma island in the Canaries, the Comparative Education Society in Europe (CESE) organized an international symposium entitled PISA under Examination: Changing Knowledge, Changing Tests and Changing Schools. During four days, seventeen leading scholars of Europe and America presented their contributions to debate the different problematics of the remarkable phenomenon represented by the OECD Programme for International Student Assessment or PISA. PISA is not merely an educational event; it is also a media circus which involves the public rehearsal for reasons for failure or success and even in some cases public and political and academic explanations about why failure was not really that and why success was not really that either. At the centre of all these indications, we find the growing influence of international agencies on education and schooling which is decisively contributing to a marketisation of the field of education in the context of an increasingly multilevel and fragmented arena for educational governance based on the formulation, the regulation and the transnational coordination and convergence of policies buttressed at the same time by the diffusion of persuasive discursive practice. Organized in four sections entitled: The Comparative Challenges of the OCDE PISA Programme; PISA and School Knowledge; The Assessment of PISA School Effectiveness and the Socio-cultural Dimension; PISA and the Immigrant Student Question; and Extreme Visions of PISA: Germany and Finland, the contributions of this book offer a comprehensive approach of all these challenging and significant issues written from different and distinct research and academic traditions.

from 2009 qualification in a clear and engaging style that students will find easy to understand This book includes a wide range of activities and exercises for self study as well as examination style questions and summaries to aid revision Publisher s description Argumentation in Science Education Sibel Erduran, María Pilar Jiménez-Aleixandre, 2007-12-06 Educational researchers are bound to see this as a timely work It brings together the work of leading experts in argumentation in science education It presents research combining theoretical and empirical perspectives relevant for secondary science classrooms Since the 1990s argumentation studies have increased at a rapid pace from stray papers to a wealth of research exploring ever more sophisticated issues It is this fact that makes this volume so crucial Of Games and God Kevin Schut, 2013-01-15 Video games are big business generating billions of dollars annually The long held stereotype of the gamer as a solitary teen hunched in front of his computer screen for hours is inconsistent with the current makeup of a diverse and vibrant gaming community The rise of this cultural phenomenon raises a host of questions Are some games too violent Do they hurt or help our learning Do they encourage escapism How do games portray gender Such questions have generated lots of talk but missing from much of the discussion has been a Christian perspective Kevin Schut a communications expert and an enthusiastic gamer himself offers a lively balanced and informed Christian evaluation of video games and video game culture He expertly engages a variety of issues encouraging readers to consider both the perils and the promise of this major cultural phenomenon The book includes a foreword by Quentin J Schultze The Changing Landscape of International Schooling Tristan Bunnell, 2014-06-27 The number of English medium international schools that deliver their curriculum wholly or partly in the English language reportedly reached 6 000 in January 2012 It is anticipated this number will rise to over 11 000 schools by 2022 employing over 500 000 English speaking teachers The number of children being taught in these schools reportedly reached 3 million in March 2012 Alongside this phenomenal growth the landscape of international schooling has changed fundamentally moving away from largely serving the children of the expat and globally mobile business community and Embassies towards serving the local children of the wealthy and emerging middle class This has been reflected in the shift away from non profit ownership by the school community towards ownership by for profit companies and proprietors In this book Tristan Bunnell explores the changing landscape of international schooling and discusses the implications of these changes both in terms of theoretically conceptualizing the scale nature and purpose of the field and in terms of practically serving and administering the growing industry that international education is becoming The Changing Landscape of International Schooling will be worthwhile reading for researchers academics and students of international schooling leaders and teachers in international schools and those interested in the broader development of international education Critical Policy Discourse Analysis Nicolina Montesano Montessori, Michael Farrelly, Jane Mulderrig, 2019-12-27 This book provides a series of contemporary and international policy case studies analysed through discursive methodological approaches in the traditions of critical discourse analysis social semiotics and discourse theory

This is the first volume that connects this discursive methodology systematically to the field of critical policy analysis and will therefore be an essential book for researchers who wish to include a discursive analysis in their critical policy research
