In Defense of Housing Peter Marcuse,David Madden,2024-08-27 In every major city in the world there is a housing crisis How did this happen and what can we do about it Everyone needs and deserves housing But today our homes are being transformed into commodities making the inequalities of the city ever more acute Profit has become more important than social need The poor are forced to pay more for worse housing Communities are faced with the violence of displacement and gentrification And the benefits of decent housing are only available for those who can afford it In Defense of Housing is the definitive statement on this crisis from leading urban planner Peter Marcuse and sociologist David Madden They look at the causes and consequences of the housing problem and detail the need for progressive alternatives The housing crisis cannot be solved by minor policy shifts they argue Rather the housing crisis has deep political and economic roots and therefore requires a radical response

Why Love Hurts Eva Illouz,2013-05-20 Few of us have been spared the agonies of intimate relationships They come in many shapes loving a man or a woman who will not commit to us being heartbroken when we re abandoned by a lover engaging in Sisyphean internet searches coming back lonely from bars parties or blind dates feeling bored in a relationship that is so much less than we had envisaged these are only some of the ways in which the search for love is a difficult and often painful experience Despite the widespread and almost collective character of these experiences our culture insists they are the result of faulty or insufficiently mature psyches For many the Freudian idea that the family designs the pattern of an individual s erotic career has been the main explanation for why and how we fail to find or sustain love Psychoanalysis and popular psychology have succeeded spectacularly in convincing us that individuals bear responsibility for the misery of their romantic and erotic lives The purpose of this book is to change our way of thinking about what is wrong in modern relationships The problem is not dysfunctional childhoods or insufficiently self aware psyches but rather the institutional forces shaping how we love The argument of this book is that the modern romantic experience is shaped by a fundamental transformation in the ecology and architecture of romantic choice The samples from which men and women choose a partner the modes of evaluating prospective partners the very importance of choice and autonomy and what people imagine to be the spectrum of their choices all these aspects of choice have transformed the very core of the will how we want a partner the sense of worth bestowed by relationships and the organization of desire This book does to love what Marx did to commodities it shows that it is shaped by social relations and institutions and that it circulates in a marketplace of unequal actors

Masculinity in Crisis R. Horrocks, 1994-08-30 This book argues that masculine identity is in deep crisis in Western culture the old forms are disintegrating while men struggle to establish new relations with women and with each other This book offers a fresh look at gender particularly masculinity by using material from the author's work as a psychotherapist The book also considers the contributions made by feminism sociology and anthropology to the study of gender and suggests that it must be studied from an interdisciplinary standpoint Masculinity is seen to have economic political and psychological roots but the concrete development of gender must be traced in the relations of the male infant with his parents Here the young boy has to separate from his mother and his own proto feminine identity and identify with his father but in Western culture fathering is often deficient Male identity is shown to be fractured fragile and truncated Men are trained to be rational and violent and to shut out whole areas of existence and feeling Many stereotypes imprison men particularly machismo which is shown to be deeply masochistic and self destructive

The Monstrous-Feminine Barbara Creed, 2015-09-04 In almost all critical writings on the horror film woman is conceptualised only as victim In The Monstrous Feminine Barbara Creed challenges this patriarchal view by arguing that the prototype of all definitions of the monstrous is the female reproductive body With close reference to a number of classic horror films including the Alien trilogy T

American Vaudeville as Ritual Albert F. McLean Jr., 2021-10-21 This study affords an entirely new view of the nature of modern popular entertainment American vaudeville is here regarded as the carefully elaborated ritual serving the different and paradoxical myth of the new urban folk It demonstrates that the compulsive myth making faculty in man is not limited to primitive ethnic groups or to serious art that vaudeville cannot be dismissed as meaningless and irrelevant simply because it fits neither the criteria of formal criticism or the familiar patterns of anthropological study Using the methods for criticism developed by Susanne K Langer and others the author evaluates American vaudeville as a symbolic manifestation of basic values shared by the American people during the period 1885-1930 By examining vaudeville as folk ritual the book reveals the unconscious symbolism basic to vaudeville in its humor magic animal acts music and playlets and also in the performers and the managers which gave form to the dominant American myth of success This striking view of the new mass man as a folk and of his mythology rooted in the very empirical science devoted to dispelling myth has implications for the serious study of all forms of mass entertainment in America The book is illustrated with a number of striking photographs humanity and especially the roots of humanity is crucial to an understanding of that society it presents the different models for the creation and nature of mankind and their changing receptions over a range of periods and places It thereby demonstrates that the myths reflect fundamental continuities evolutions and developments across cultures and societies in no context are these more apparent than with regard to gender Chapters explore the role of gender in Graeco Roman and Judaeo Christian creation myths and their reception traditions demonstrating how perceptions of male and female dating back to antiquity have become embedded in and significantly influenced subsequent perceptions of gender roles Focusing on the figures of Prometheus Pandora Adam and Eve and their instantiations in a broad range of narratives and media from antiquity to the present day they examine how variations on these myths reflect the concerns of the societies producing them and the malleability of the stories as they are recast to fit different contexts and different audiences
