The Harder He Falls Lynda Aicher, 2016-06-07 RITA Award finalist Lynda Aicher fires up a thrilling series featuring rugged men who play hard for a living. When it comes to one another's hearts, they never back down because behind closed doors, the games they play are very different. Expert whitewater rafting guide Grady Kelley lives for that rush of adrenaline at work as the newest employee of a Portland-based outdoor adventure sports company and off the river where liaisons with anonymous men keep him satisfied. Grady prefers no drama and no strings attached, but when tragedy strikes, fate leads him to Micah Swaine. He's hot, masculine, distracting, and offers the kind of deeper connection Grady has sworn off, no matter how badly he craves it. Working at a leather bar, Micah meets a lot of guys, but Grady's different, and he seems to feel the same way. The trouble is anything beyond casual sex is too risky for Micah. He's got secrets he doesn't know how to share, secrets that would make any relationship a battlefield. No man, even one as compassionate as Grady, would stick around for that kind of trouble. And yet, as physical desire melts the walls they've put up, Micah and Grady discover that trusting each other is the most exhilarating adventure of all. The Harder He Falls is intended for mature audiences. The Farther He Runs Lynda Aicher, 2016-12-06 In an explosive novel of long-awaited release from the award-winning author of The Deeper He Hurts, two emotionally exposed Marines learn to lean on each other and discover the courage to act on their innermost needs. After years away from home, Tanner Dorsey is back, and sorting through feelings that have him in a stranglehold. The hardened Marine will do anything for a fallen comrade, so when an accident leaves Finn Kelley fighting for his life, Tanner's eager to be there for him. In fact, Tanner's ready and willing to do anything Finn asks, especially if it means finally acting on the sexual tension that's always kept him craving more. Finn senses it too when he brushes against Tanner's stubbled jaw when he inhales the scent of the T-shirt that clings to Tanner's body like a second skin. Now that he's more vulnerable than ever, Finn knows the time is right to take control, even if it means risking the heart and soul of their friendship. The bond they share goes beyond desire; it's a bond of brotherhood forged under conditions few could imagine. But once they cross that line, there will be no more secrets, no more boundaries, and no turning back. The Farther He Runs is intended for mature audiences and includes an excerpt from another Loveswept title. Praise for The Farther He Runs Lynda Aicher delivers an emotionally nuanced and poignant tale. Aicher's stoic, honorable Marines are exquisitely drawn, flaws and all. Deft plotting helps the author explore the very real struggles of two men in the post-don't ask, don't tell military, and a subplot of loss adds a painful but necessary layer to the story. This is an emotion-packed, satisfying read. Publishers Weekly The chemistry and connection between the men are great from the start. Aicher does a really nice job letting us feel the intense bonds of their friendship and their closeness while, at the same time, seeing how their feelings have changed to become more romantic and sexual. Joyfully Jay This story is heart-wrenching without being over the top. It's sweet; it made me cry, and it had me rooting for Tanner and Finn as they navigated the rocky path from friends to lovers. Absolutely beautiful. Alpha Book Club

Art School Steven Henry Madoff, 2009-09-11 Leading international artists and art educators consider the challenges of art education in today's dramatically changed art world. The last explosive change in art education came nearly a century ago when the German Bauhaus was formed. Today dramatic changes in the art world, its increasing professionalization, the pervasive power of the art market, and fundamental shifts in art making itself in our post-Duchampian era, combined with a revolution in information technology, raise fundamental questions about the education of today's artists. Art School: Propositions for the 21st Century brings together more than thirty leading international artists and art educators to reconsider the practices of art education in academic, practical, ethical, and philosophical terms. The essays in the book range over continents, histories, traditions, experiments, and fantasies of education. Accompanying the essays are conversations with such prominent artist-educators as John Baldessari, Michael Craig Martin, Hans Haacke, and Marina Abramovic, as well as questionnaire responses from a dozen important artists, among them Mike Kelley, Ann Hamilton, Guillermo Kuitca, and Shirin Neshat, about their own experiences as students. A fascinating analysis of the architecture of major historical art schools throughout the world looks at the relationship of the principles of their designs to the principles of the pedagogy practiced within their halls. And throughout the volume, attention is paid to new initiatives and proposals about what an art school can and should be in the twenty-first century and what it shouldn't be. No other book on the subject covers more of the questions concerning art education today or offers more insight into the pressures, challenges, risks, and opportunities for artists and art educators in the years ahead. Contributors: Marina Abramovic, Dennis Adams, John Baldessari, Ute Meta Bauer, Daniel Birnbaum, Saskia Bos, Tania Bruguera, Luis Camnitzer, Michael Craig Martin, Thierry de Duve, Clémentine Deliss, Charles Esche, Liam Gillick, Boris Groys, Hans Haacke, Ann Lauterbach, Ken Lum, Steven Henry Madoff, Brendan D. The Happiest Life Hugh Hewitt, 2014-01-07 What's the secret to a life of happiness? In this delightful book brimming with humorous and poignant passages, radio personality Hugh Hewitt provides the answer. The starting place is generosity, he says, and there are seven gifts that are sure to improve the lives of both giver and receiver: encouragement, energy, enthusiasm, good humor, graciousness, gratitude, and patience. Anyone can give these gifts, but Hewitt shows that some people are particularly well-placed to offer them: parents, spouses, family members, friends, teachers, coworkers, and fellow church members. Channeling his skills as a broadcaster, journalist, lawyer, and teacher, Hewitt weaves stories about these seven gifts and seven givers with inspiring and motivating observations to help readers become generous in the ways that matter most. The Happiest Life is not simply a delight to read and not merely a glimpse under the hood of a remarkable man. It's a map to what Robert Frost once described as the road less traveled, the road that leads to a life of meaning and gratitude and joy. Charles J. Chaput, O.F.M., Cap, Archbishop of Philadelphia: Reading this book is the next best thing to sitting down for a long conversation with my friend Hugh Hewitt. Dr. R. Albert Mohler, Jr., president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary: Wanna be a happier person? Know anyone else who does? What if this book could actually help with that? Cutting to the chase, it can. And it will. Eric Metaxas, New York Times best-selling author of Bonhoeffer, Pastor Martyr, Prophet Spyr, and 7 Men and the Secret of Their Greatness.
