how people's performance is evaluated. People are often forced into a normal distribution curve or even worse rank ordered. Not only does this not build trust, it also does not hold managers responsible for coaching people and helping them win. The manager's responsibility is focused on sorting people out. When I was a college professor, I always gave my students the final exam at the beginning of the course and spent the rest of the semester helping them answer the questions so that they could get an A. Life is all about getting As, not some stupid normal distribution curve. Garry Ridge got this and wow! What a difference it has made in WD 40 Company's performance. Ken Blanchard: When I first heard Ken talk about giving his final exam at the beginning of the course and then teaching students the answers so they could get an A, it blew me away. Why don't we do that in business? So that's exactly what I did at WD 40 Company when we set up our Don't Mark My Paper Help Me Get an A performance management system. Has it made a difference? You'd better believe it! Ever since we began the system, our company's annual sales have more than tripled from 100 million to more than 339 million. And we've accomplished this feat while making the company a great place to work. Garry Ridge
