Why Forests? Why Now? Frances Seymour,Jonah Busch,2016-12-27 Tropical forests are an undervalued asset in meeting the greatest global challenges of our time averting climate change and promoting development Despite their importance tropical forests and their ecosystems are being destroyed at a high and even increasing rate in most forest rich countries The good news is that the science economics and politics are aligned to support a major international effort over the next five years to reverse tropical deforestation Why Forests Why Now synthesizes the latest evidence on the importance of tropical forests in a way that is accessible to anyone interested in climate change and development and to readers already familiar with the problem of deforestation It makes the case to decisionmakers in rich countries that rewarding developing countries for protecting their forests is urgent affordable and achievable

The Shock Doctrine Naomi Klein,2010-04-01 The bestselling author of No Logo shows how the global free market has exploited crises and shock for three decades from Chile to Iraq In her groundbreaking reporting Naomi Klein introduced the term disaster capitalism Whether covering Baghdad after the U S occupation Sri Lanka in the wake of the tsunami or New Orleans post Katrina she witnessed something remarkably similar People still reeling from catastrophe were being hit again this time with economic shock treatment losing their land and homes to rapid fire corporate makeovers The Shock Doctrine retells the story of the most dominant ideology of our time Milton Friedman s free market economic revolution In contrast to the popular myth of this movement s peaceful global victory Klein shows how it has exploited moments of shock and extreme violence in order to implement its economic policies in so many parts of the world from Latin America and Eastern Europe to South Africa Russia and Iraq At the core of disaster capitalism is the use of cataclysmic events to advance radical privatization combined with the privatization of the disaster response itself Klein argues that by capitalizing on crises created by nature or war the disaster capitalism complex now exists as a booming new economy and is the violent culmination of a radical economic project that has been incubating for fifty years

The Launching Years Laura Kastner,Jennifer Wyatt,2002-08-27 Launching a child from home is second only to child birth in its impact on a family Parents can end up reeling with the empty nest blues while teens find their powers of self reliance stretched to the breaking point

During the time of upheaval that begins senior year of high school with the nerve wracking college application process and continues into the first year of life away from home The Launching Years is a trusted resource for keeping every member of the family sane From weathering the emotional onslaught of impending separation to effectively parenting from afar from avoiding the slump of senioritis to handling the newfound independence and the experimentation with alcohol and sexuality that college often involves The Launching Years provides both parents and teens with well written down to earth advice for staying on an even keel throughout this exciting discomfiting and challenging time Teen-Proofing John

Rosemond,2012-11-06 In Teen Proofing now available in paperback he tackles the challenges of raising a teenager with his trademark user friendly humorous and commonsense style Rosemond lays out a perfectly sound and logical case for recognizing the realities of the teen parent relationship forming the foundation and parenting with the Long Rope Principle In short the author demonstrates how Mom and Dad can avoid the pitfalls of becoming dictatorial Control Freaks skirt the potholes of turning into permissive Wimps and enjoy the freedom and rewards of parenting in a controlled but not controlling and relaxed manner Teenagers Rosemond readily admits can be a challenge But infusing young adults with a sense of personal responsibility then showing them the results of good and bad choices is a goal every parent can achieve

Neuro-Education and Neuro-Rehabilitation Eduardo Martínez-Montes,Julie Chobert,Mireille Besson,2016-11-04 In the last decade important discoveries have been made in cognitive neuroscience regarding brain plasticity and learning such as the mirror neurons system and the anatomo functional organization of perceptual cognitive and motor abilities Time has come to consider the societal impact of these findings The aim of this Research Topic of Frontiers in Psychology is to concentrate on two domains neuro education and neuro rehabilitation At the interface between neuroscience psychology and education neuro education is a new inter disciplinary emerging field that aims at developing new education programs based on results from cognitive neuroscience and psychology For instance brain based learning methods are flourishing but few have been rigorously tested using well controlled procedures Authors of this Research Topic will present their latest findings in this domain using rigorously controlled experiments Neuro rehabilitation aims at developing new rehabilitation methods for children and adults with learning disorders Neuro rehabilitation programs can be based upon a relatively low number of patients and controls or on large clinical trials to test for the efficiency of new treatments These projects may also aim at testing the efficiency of video games and of new methods such as Trans Magnetic Stimulation TMS for therapeutic interventions in children or adolescents with learning disabilities This Research Topic will bring together neuroscientists interested in brain plasticity and the effects of training psychologists working with adults as well as with normally developing children and children with learning disabilities as well as education researchers directly confronted with the efficiency of education programs The goal for each author is to describe the state of the art in his her specific research domain and to illustrate how her his research findings can impact education in the classroom or rehabilitation of children and adolescents
