A New Heaven and a New Earth J. Richard Middleton, 2014-11-25 In recent years more and more Christians have come to appreciate the Bible's teaching that the ultimate blessed hope for the believer is not an otherworldly heaven; instead, it is full-bodied participation in a new heaven and a new earth brought into fullness through the coming of God's kingdom. Drawing on the full sweep of the biblical narrative, J. Richard Middleton unpacks key Old Testament and New Testament texts to make a case for the new earth as the appropriate Christian hope. He suggests its ethical and ecclesial implications, exploring the difference a holistic eschatology can make for living in a broken world.

Revelation, 1999-01-01 The final book of the Bible, Revelation prophesies the ultimate judgement of mankind in a series of allegorical visions, grisly images, and numerological predictions. According to these prophecies, the Beast will be destroyed, and Christ will rule a new Jerusalem. With an introduction by Will Self.

Heaven Misplaced Douglas Wilson, 2008 Though most Christians refrain from predicting exactly when our world will end many believe that when earth's finale does arrive it will be a catastrophe They expect that before Christ comes back to reclaim His own Satan will escape his chains and return to wreak havoc on our planet Details vary but the general assumption is the same things will get much much worse before they get better But is this really what the Bible teaches Leaving aside the theological terms that often confuse and muddle this question Douglas Wilson instead explains eschatology as the end of the greatest story in the world the story of humanity He turns our attention back to the stories and prophecies of Scripture and argues for hopeful optimism the belief that God will be true to His promises that His will shall be done on earth as it is in heaven and that the peace and good will we sing about at Christmas will one day be a reality here on earth
