The Popol Vuh Lewis Spence, 1908 Oedipus the King Sophocles, 2019-10-15 At the outset of the play Oedipus is the beloved ruler of the city of Thebes whose citizens have been stricken by a plague Consulting the Delphic oracle Oedipus is told that the plague will cease only when the murderer of Queen Jocasta's first husband King Laius has been found and punished for his deed Oedipus resolves to find Laius's killer His investigation turns into an obsessive reconstruction of his own hidden past when he discovers that the old man he killed when he first approached Thebes as a youth was none other than Laius At the end Jocasta hangs herself in shame and the guilt-stricken Oedipus blinds himself Notes on the Synthesis of Form Christopher Alexander, 1964 These notes are about the process of design the process of inventing things which display new physical order organization form in response to function This book opening with these words presents an entirely new theory of the process of design In the first part of the book Christopher Alexander discusses the process by which a form is adapted to the context of human needs and demands that has called it into being He shows that such an adaptive process will be successful only if it proceeds piecemeal instead of all at once It is for this reason that forms from traditional unself-conscious cultures molded not by designers but by the slow pattern of changes within tradition are so beautifully organized and adapted When the designer in our own self-conscious culture is called on to create a form that is adapted to its context he is unsuccessful because the preconceived categories out of which he builds his picture of the problem do not correspond to the inherent components of the problem and therefore lead only to the arbitrariness willfulness and lack of understanding which plague the design of modern buildings and modern cities In the second part Mr Alexander presents a method by which the designer may bring his full creative imagination into play and yet avoid the traps of irrelevant preconception He shows that whenever a problem is stated it is possible to ignore existing concepts and to create new concepts out of the structure of the problem itself which do correspond correctly to what he calls the subsystems of the adaptive process By treating each of these subsystems as a separate subproblem the designer can translate the new concepts into form The form because of the process will be well adapted to its context non-arbitrary and correct The mathematics underlying this method based mainly on set theory is fully developed in a long appendix Another appendix demonstrates the application of the method to the design of an Indian village Reinforcement Learning, second edition Richard S. Sutton, Andrew G. Barto, 2018-11-13 The significantly expanded and updated new edition of a widely used text on reinforcement learning one of the most active research areas in artificial intelligence Reinforcement learning one of the most active research areas in artificial intelligence is a computational approach to learning whereby an agent tries to maximize the total amount of reward it receives while interacting with a complex uncertain environment In Reinforcement Learning Richard Sutton and Andrew Barto provide a clear and simple account of the field's key ideas and algorithms This second edition has been significantly expanded and updated presenting new topics and updating coverage of other topics Like the first edition this second edition focuses on core online learning algorithms with the more mathematical material set off in shaded boxes Part I covers as much of reinforcement learning as possible without going beyond the tabular case for which exact solutions can be found Many algorithms presented in this part are new to the second edition including UCB Expected Sarsa and Double Learning Part II extends these ideas to function approximation with new sections on such topics as artificial neural networks and the Fourier basis and offers expanded treatment of off policy learning and policy gradient methods Part III has new chapters on reinforcement learning s relationships to psychology and neuroscience as well as an updated case studies chapter including AlphaGo and AlphaGo Zero Atari game playing and IBM Watson s wagering strategy The final chapter discusses the future societal impacts of reinforcement learning
